

STATE HIGHWAY PATROLMEN ARE BEING REPLACED

New Men Named In Adjoining Counties: Lee Co. Soon

Editor's Note—Apropos the appointment of new state highway patrolmen in adjoining counties it was stated here today that while it is expected the present five Lee county patrolmen will be replaced no official notification has been received from the Highway Department at Springfield.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 2—(AP)—Additional highway maintenance appointments for nine counties were announced here today.

Clarence Hiesner of Pontiac was named supervisor replacing William Kiefer and Joseph Giewalski of Calumet City was named supervisor.

Some named, all maintenance patrolmen in the Dixon district are as follows:

Carroll County—Frank Rush, Thompson; C. J. Fulbright, Mt. Carroll; Willard G. Krauss, Milledgeville; Charles Diehl and Guy R. Beck, Lanark, replacing Willis A. Pauley, Dewey Dykstra, George Baumgardt, J. H. Dollinger and H. Kellman.

Whiteside County—Edward Coffey, Albany; George W. Taylor, Lincoln; John E. Finner, Prophetstown; Fred Meyerhoff, Morrison; and Maurice McCormick, Rock Falls, replacing Charles Hamilton, Jess Wilser, Bert McGrady, George Dykhuizer and William Wolf.

Jo Daviess County—Joseph L. Meneguino, Galena; James L. Kehl, Stockton, and Richard T. Tapley, Elizabeth, replacing Ed Brown, P. M. Parker and C. F. Curtis.

Civil Service Commission Governor Henry Horner announced today he had appointed W. Emory Lancaster of Quincy as a member of the Civil Service Commission. While the commission elects its own chairman after organizing the Governor said he expected Mr. Lancaster to be chosen for that post. He succeeds H. S. Parker, Republican of Effingham. Mr. Lancaster a native of Adams county has been practicing attorney for 27 years. He is a graduate of the Michigan Law School and Knox College, Galesburg.

The Governor said Henry S. Kramer, East St. Louis, Republican would probably be retained as the minority member of the board. Many reports regarding the removal of Adjutant General Carlos Black brought information today that under the law he cannot be ousted except for physical disability or by court martial for violation of the law or military code. Albert L. Culbertson of Delavan is an applicant for Assistant Attorney General.

Cut Payrolls The Governor's office announced today there will be no let-up in the policy of dismissals and cuts in payrolls. Six of 12 district health supervisors were ordered discharged effective February 4. Their names were not announced.

Other state officers are cooperating in the Governor's program by cutting salaries and effecting other economies. Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes has placed in effect a 10 per cent cut in salaries of all employees drawing more than $125 a month.

State Auditor Edward J. Barrett is working out a sliding scale of salary reductions ranging from 10 to 20 per cent.

State Treasurer John C. Martin also is working out a plan that will reduce salaries in his office at least 10 per cent.

Attorney General Otto Kerner has slashed the payrolls in his office considerably.

Several of the directors and other high appointive officers, whose salaries are fixed by law, have taken cuts in salary ranging as high as $1,000 a year.

Japs Determined To Retain Islands

Tokyo, Feb. 2—(AP)—Confronted by the prospect of secession from the League of Nations, which would involve the question of equatorial Pacific Islands held under League mandate, Japan's determination was becoming manifest today to retain the islands regardless of possible attempts in Geneva to re-assume suzerainty.

The islands, lying between the United States and the Philippines, figure prominently in the Navy's plans for domination of the western Pacific and although Admiral Osumi, Minister of the Navy, evaded direct questions as to whether the islands would be retained, the strongest insistence on their retention originated in naval circles.

Responsible officials avoided categorical public statements.

Chinese Renewed Attack On Japs

Peiping, China, Feb. 2—(AP)—An official bulletin said today that Chinese volunteers launched new attacks yesterday and last night on Japanese troops holding Suchung and Chiumenkow, on the south-eastern border of Jehol province. Latest dispatches said hostilities were continuing.

The word "tariff" is derived from the Arabic "tarifa" which means a notification or inventory.

IS NOW GRANDFATHER Sam Kramer, member of the fire department has increased the latitude of his smile and for good reasons. In a letter received from his son, George Kramer of Washington, D. C., Sam was made aware of the fact that on January 29 he became a grandfather to a fine boy born at a Washington hospital to Mr. and Mrs. George Kramer. George, who formerly served in the U. S. Marine Corps, now holds the responsible position of assistant manager of the Washington Rapid Transit company.

UNDER ADVISEMENT A suit to determine the responsibility of townships in the care of paupers was heard by Judge Harry Edwards in the Circuit Court this morning, in which Sublette township brought action against Reynolds township for a bill of approximately $300 for hospital care of a pauper. The suit hinged on the new law effective in July, 1931 in which townships were required to care for their own paupers. Attorney H. C. Warner appeared in behalf of Reynolds township and Sublette township. Judge Edwards will decide the question at a later date.

Professor Quits Result Of Attack

Iowa City, Ia., Feb. 2—(AP)—Prof. Henning Larson, one of the three members of the University of Iowa athletic eligibility committee whose removal was demanded recently by an alumni group, has resigned from the committee.

Professor Larson submitted his resignation to President Jessup on January 4, the day after the Athletic Council overruled the eligibility committee which had declared Ed Break and Ivan Blackmer ineligible for the basketball team.

"My resignation was prompted by the belief that a board divided on a matter of principle cannot function properly," Larson said.

Break and Blackmer were declared ineligible by Big Ten Conference action last Saturday.

Saw Armed Prowler At Senator's Home

Washington, Feb. 2—(AP)—Metropolitan police today were investigating a complaint that an armed man was seen about the home of Senator McGill of Kansas last night.

Police were informed that the family was at dinner when the attention of the Senator was attracted by a noise outside. From the window, he was able to see a man with a double-barreled shotgun but was unable to see the features of the man holding the weapon.

Police responding to his telephone call found footprints on the ground near the home.

McGill said he knew of no reason why a prowler should annoy him.

OFFICIALS OF NATIONAL CITY BANK ASKED TO EXPLAIN BOOM AND COLLAPSE OF BANK'S STOCK

Washington, Feb. 2—(AP)—Officials of the National City Bank will be asked to explain to a committee of senators the public marketing of their own bank stocks.

Chairman Norbeck of the Senate Banking committee conducting a stock market investigation said that Charles E. Mitchell and other high officers of the bank would be called to appear February 21.

Norbeck said the National City Bank stock was sold at a "phenomenally high price and dropped to less than one-twentieth of that high price."

MORE MONEY IS NEEDED BY R. F. C. SAYS CHIEF

Additional $150,000,000 To Aid States Proposed By Miller

Washington, Feb. 2—(AP)—Appropriation of an additional $150,000,000 for direct relief loans to states was recommended to a Senate committee today by Charles A. Miller, president of the Reconstruction Corporation.

The R. F. C. president endorsed in general terms the Wagner bill to liberalize the law under which his organization administers relief, testifying that the demand for aid is increasing.

He opposed, however, the provision to throw wide open the entire resources of the corporation for relief loans to states, saying it would handicap efforts to stimulate local relief work.

Miller testified that the present $300,000,000 fund would last until June and that an additional $150,000,000 "would carry us through to the long session in December."

More Funds Needed Warning that additional funds are needed Miller added that one state is within six weeks of exhaustion of its quota which under the present law is $45,000,000. He did not name the state, but committee members understood he referred to Illinois, which has borrowed about $38,000,000.

Miller emphasized he was expressing his personal views saying that the board felt it should not favor or oppose "legislation adding to or subtracting from its functions."

Charging discrimination in administration of relief by the Reconstruction Corporation, Senator Lewis (D. Ill.) told the committee today the government seemed blind to the danger of revolution.

Farm Board Saved The first vote in Congress today on reduction of expenditures resulted in defeat for a proposal to cut off the entire $500,000 for the Farm Board, which would have meant the death of that agency.

The House refused the plan offered as an amendment to the appropriation bill for the government's many independent offices, and also declined to cut the fund to $360,000.

The Senate was delayed in getting to grips again with the appropriation question in the Treasury Postoffice bill, by another speech on the debt issue by Senator Robinson of Indiana, Republican.

This time he called upon the State Department to apprehend William C. Bullitt, who has been reported in some newspaper accounts to have been conferring on ways and means of the European capitals.

Relief questions, silver, tariff and farm measures engaged a number of committee members.

Hog raisers gave conflicting views on the wisdom of the domestic allotment farm price-raising bill before one Senate committee today while another heard an appeal for legislation to erase the agricultural mortgage situation.

Views Opposed Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association, endorsed the allotment bill in its application to hogs, saying the increased cost to the consumer would be slight compared to the benefit to the farmer.

Several other witnesses including F. C. Collins, Denver, Colo., president of the American National Livestock Association, took the opposite view, saying it would never be possible to right the price discrepancy between agricultural and other products "by any arbitrary price-fixing plan."

At the hearing on farm mortgage and debt relief measures, C. B. Jennett, vice president of the First Trust Joint Stock Land Bank, Chicago, said suspension of mortgage foreclosures by some insurance companies has been motivated by "business policy" and indicated that some of them may be forced to reduce their interest rates in order to collect.

Garden Projects Commission's Plan

Chicago, Feb. 2—(AP)—Wilfred S. Reynolds, Executive Secretary of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, was conferring at Urbana today with Dean H. W. Mumford of the College of Agriculture, Prof. J. C. Blair of the Department of Horticulture and Prof. Ernest Bogart of the Economics Department of the University of Illinois. They were to study plans for garden projects to be sponsored this spring by the Relief Commission.

Two thousand sheep and 400 cattle were killed by huge hailstones in one section of the Transvaal, South Africa.

The committee's investigation, Norbeck said, has shown that "some of the large banks were highly responsible for the wild stock market boom."

Norbeck said that at that time the Federal Reserve Board sought to slow the boom and asked the cooperation of Mitchell, then a director of the New York Federal Reserve bank.

Mitchell, Norbeck said, "defied the board and speeded up the boom. He took a 'go to hell' attitude toward the boom and got away with it."

Reversing the Usual Game

GERMANY TENSE AS ELECTION IS CALLED BY PRES.

Hitler Is Confident His Party Will Return Victorious

Berlin, Feb. 2—(AP)—Chancellor Hitler's first appeal for a parliamentary majority in elections set for March 5 found Germany seething today with political animosity. All outdoor Communist demonstrations were reported banned in the greater part of Germany.

The tense situation reached a climax with Hitler's announcement of two four-year plans of national regeneration—for the "salvation of the farmer and the worker."

The Telegraph-Union Press Association heard that orders were issued to Prussian police to prevent Communist demonstrations during the election campaign.

The National Communist newspaper Rote Fahne said the ban was invoked to curb election campaigning. The Communists held one-sixth of the seats in the German Reichstag which was dissolved yesterday.

The stocky little Nazi leader was supremely confident of victory after his cabinet, in which Nationalists far outnumber his party colleagues, persuaded President von Hindenburg to permit the new elections.

Speech Attacked The Chancellor's nation-wide appeal last night for a "four-year chance," in which he attacked the Republican parties, met with a stormy response. The Social Democratic organ Vorwaerts scathingly criticized the speech, declaring his "four year plan is a new catchword borrowed from Stalin."

Other newspapers were silent on Hitler's reiteration of his often proclaimed remedies for the country. The Nationalist papers welcomed the election, on the ground that it was the first time a clear line has been drawn between the rightist parties and the "Bolsheviks."

Yesterday's deaths due to disorders, mostly between Communists and Nazis, reached seven. A woman was killed in a Duisburg shooting affray at midnight. Communists, Republicans, and Nazis were injured in Berlin, Altona, Prussia, the Nazis demolished a Socialist newspaper's rooms. Since Hitler came into power Monday more than a score have been slain and several times as many injured.

Hitler, four days Chancellor, challenged his countrymen today to "crucify me or do anything else to me if at the end of four years we have not succeeded."

"The other side had things all their own way for fourteen years," he told a group of newspapermen in his first press conference as Chancellor. "Look at the result!"

"Give us four years—that's the legal period of a Reichstag—and then let the country sit in judgment."

Throughout the day police in all parts of Prussia invaded Communist meeting places, and in some cases the homes of suspected Communists, seizing papers and arresting their owners in an effort to put an end to disorders which have cost nearly a dozen lives since the Nazi chief became head of the government.

While the raids were going on the Chancellor, accompanied by Wilhelm Frick, his Minister of the Interior, appeared before the Reichsrat, upper house of Parliament, shook hands with each member and spoke from the presidential

Groundhog's Views Of The Weather Given

Gobbler's Knob, Pa., Feb. 2—(AP)—The groundhog came out of his hole on Canoe Ridge today, saw his shadow at exactly 9:31 A. M. and, with a couple of sniffs, predicted skating in March.

The old fellow, whose predictions are anxiously awaited by a breathless world from one February second to the next, seemed a bit thin and emaciated but he denied that the depression has anything to do with his appearance.

After squaring himself around so as to cast a good, clear shadow, the weather sage looked at Court Hoover and Sid Smith, who were on hand to get the forecast hot off the griddle.

"You see that case, boys? I haven't made a clearer one in many years and it means you'll have plenty of skating in March."

"We have had a lot of unseasonable weather this winter, I can tell. It has been much warmer than normal, but there'll be a change soon and shorts will go into the moth balls."

"There will be snow, mixed with rain and a lot of ice. Blizzards are due and winter will not only linger in the lap of spring, it will chill summer's knees, too."

The old fellow stroked his graying whiskers thoughtfully, glanced again at his shadow and started for his hole.

But Smith, who had been listening attentively to the weather prophets' sage sayings, stopped him with a question about the depression.

With a sniff that was almost a wheeze, the groundhog shouted: "Depression? Nertz! That's all in your mind. If you fellows want the depression to end, you'll have to get your shoulder under it and boost. It's purely a matter of confidence. If you think there ain't no depression, there ain't, that's all."

Left Sparta Sunday According to their story, it was stated that Hall, who had been employed at a hotel at Sparta, Wisconsin, last Sunday night, took a butcher's delivery truck and in company with Russell started for LaCrosse to attend a dance. Near a railroad crossing on a paved highway the truck skidded on the slippery paving as another car approached from the opposite direction, with the result that the borrowed truck was considerably damaged. Hall is said to have driven it back to Sparta and shortly afterwards both young men departed for Madison, hitch-hiking several miles.

In relating his story to the detectives and local police, Hall is said to have told of having stayed at a fraternity house on the University of Wisconsin campus Monday and Tuesday nights, where Russell had friends. A pint bottle of alcohol which was found in their possession when searched at the police station, Hall is said to have stated, was obtained at the fraternity house. According to his story, they left Madison yesterday coming to Dixon, having secured a ride with a traveling salesman who was enroute from Madison to Galesburg. The Madison detectives, after both Hall and Russell had waived extradition, took the pair back to that city for further investigation.

ADVENTURER IS ON TRIAL TODAY AT LONG BEACH

English Lord Is One Of Witnesses In Murder Case

Long Beach, Calif., Feb. 2—(AP)—Witnesses ranging in rank from an English lord to a rowboat seaman were summoned today for the opening of the trial of William James Guy, Welsh soldier of fortune, charged with the murder of Captain Walter Wanderswell, globe-trotting adventurer.

All of today and tomorrow probably will be taken in the selection of a jury. Superior Judge Robert Kenny of Los Angeles will preside over the trial.

Wanderswell was shot to death the night of last December 4 in the unlighted passageway to his cabin aboard the yacht Carma on the eve of its intended departure on an around-the-world cruise. The Carma, owned by Wanderswell, was tied up at a local dock here and aboard were a strangely crew of adventurers, including writers, lecturers, waitresses and seamen. All had signed on as members of the crew.

Among the witnesses summoned are Mrs. Aloha Wanderswell, the widow, the Lord Edward Montagu, second son of the Duke of Manchester, who was a member of the Carma's crew.

TWO WISCONSIN MEN ARE TAKEN IN CUSTODY HERE

Must Face Charges Of Robbery Filed At State Capital

Harold Russell, 29, and James Hall, 20, of Sparta, Wis., were taken in custody at 11 o'clock this morning at the postoffice building, as they approached the general delivery window to ask for mail which had been forwarded from Madison, Wis. L. J. Kinney, chief of the Madison, Wis., detective bureau and Detective J. R. Arnold of that city with Chief of Police J. D. Van Bibber and Patrolman J. Gilbert Glessner apprehended the young men, taking them to the police station for questioning.

It developed that they were traced to Dixon through their ordering of mail from one city to another since leaving Madison yesterday. At 1 o'clock today the Wisconsin officers returned to Madison with the two prisoners after each had waived extradition.

Their apprehension here, following a several hours wait at the federal building by the four officers, was the result of a daring holdup in Madison Monday night it was said. A traveling salesman was held up near the postoffice in the Wisconsin capitol city, taken to his room, where he was bound and gagged, then robbed, and the two young men who figured in the robbery took his automobile and left for parts unknown. It was reported that the two suspects taken in custody this morning denied any knowledge of the robbery or the theft of the salesman's automobile when questioned at the police station.

According to their story, it was stated that Hall, who had been employed at a hotel at Sparta, Wisconsin, last Sunday night, took a butcher's delivery truck and in company with Russell started for LaCrosse to attend a dance. Near a railroad crossing on a paved highway the truck skidded on the slippery paving as another car approached from the opposite direction, with the result that the borrowed truck was considerably damaged. Hall is said to have driven it back to Sparta and shortly afterwards both young men departed for Madison, hitch-hiking several miles.

In relating his story to the detectives and local police, Hall is said to have told of having stayed at a fraternity house on the University of Wisconsin campus Monday and Tuesday nights, where Russell had friends. A pint bottle of alcohol which was found in their possession when searched at the police station, Hall is said to have stated, was obtained at the fraternity house. According to his story, they left Madison yesterday coming to Dixon, having secured a ride with a traveling salesman who was enroute from Madison to Galesburg. The Madison detectives, after both Hall and Russell had waived extradition, took the pair back to that city for further investigation.

New Hatchery Is Established Here

Ross E. Stauffer of Mt. Morris has established the Dixon Chickeries in the L. & G. feed store building and has installed equipment to handle 10,500 eggs, with special attention, paid to ducks and turkeys. All breeds of chickens will be hatched, also, he announced today.

Some Oddities In Wire News Today From Various Parts

CAME OUT TOO SOON Jones, Okla., Feb. 2—(AP)—Oklahoma's spring-like weather has caused the death of one of the best-known weather oracles. A groundhog, strolling about in the unseasonal warmth, fell into Fred Proctor's lily pond and drowned.

AFTER OLD BUSINESS Edenton, N. C., Feb. 2—(AP)—There is one company that thinks Joseph Hewes, sponsor, under George Washington, of the nation's first Navy, is still doing business down this way.

A letter is in the hands of the Chowan county Chamber of Commerce from a New York drilling concern advertising its wares and addressed to "Joseph Hewes, construction quartermaster, Edenton, N. C."

A monument to Hewes was erected here recently.

BABY VALUED AT $500 Aurora, Feb. 2—(AP)—The law as interpreted by Justice of the Peace Galvin, holds that a 19-months-old baby is the father's property, and as such is worth $500.

A writ directed against Mr. and Mrs. Albert Spack commanded them to return to the plaintiff and owner the following goods: "one baby boy, aged 19 months, value $500."

The child was sought by LeRoy Wiskur, a farmer, who charged the parents of his wife with keeping the child since last Labor Day when Wiskur's wife was killed in an explosion.

Tax Commissioners Leave For Capital Chicago, Feb. 2—(AP)—The three members of the State Tax Commission met today and pledged themselves to an administration for four years of "efficiency, hard work, fair play, and concentration."

Scott W. Lucas of Havana, Ill., said 10 to 20 employees of the commission have been discharged and that several others would be dismissed, all the jobs to be filled by others.

The first official act of the commission was to leave for Washington to attend the Interstate Tax Conference. Other members of the commission, with Lucas as chairman, are Prof. Simon F. Leland of the University of Chicago and Baine Hodes, Chicago alderman.

The commission was reduced from five members to three in line with Gov. Henry Horner's economy campaign.

Anti-War Pact In So. America Near Mendoza, Argentina, Feb. 2—(AP)—Plans were made today for Argentina, Brazil and Chile to join in the initiation of a South American anti-war pact in a ceremony at Buenos Aires.

Argentina, which proposed the pact, already had Brazil's agreement to the plan when the widely-heralded conference opened here yesterday between Chancellors Saavedra Lamas and Miguel Cruchaga, of Argentina and Chile respectively.

The next business of this unusual personal meeting of Foreign Ministers, a departure from Latin-American diplomatic customs, is the drafting of a plan to bring the undeclared war between Paraguay and Bolivia to an end.

PENNY IS WEAPON

Chicago, Feb. 2—(AP)—The lowly penny, scorned in boom days, today became the chief weapon of the nation's farmer as he fought the farm mortgage.

Over the nation the rural household and his neighbors suddenly have become "penny wise." Land stock and property sales have been halted by meager bids as legislators, national and state, had the farmers' problem slapped in their faces.

At Aurora, Neb., 10 cents was top bid as farmers banded to prevent competitive bidding for implements but under the hammer on a chattel mortgage. Following widespread procedure, the purchasers returned their newly-acquired property to its original owner.

In Illinois the cry of "anarchy" was raised when like methods were adopted. W. A. Doss, holder of a chattel mortgage, said he sent the following telegram to Governor Henry Horner:

"If bidders are successful in settling debts in this manner we are face to face with anarchy. It is simply a question of whose claim is the strongest."

Senate Studies Bill Nearly 1,300 farmers showed a mortgage company representative the nearest way home as he attempted to foreclose on a widow's farm near Cherokee, Okla.

Meanwhile, a Senate committee in Washington began study of a House bill to ban foreclosures. An amendment was proposed by organized agriculture to provide "conciliation commissioners" to adjust debts between farmers and mortgage holders.

The Texas House proposed a mortgage moratorium and the Iowa Senate adopted a mortgage arbitration bill, only to have disagreement with the lower House which

FARMERS' FIGHTS TO SAVE HOMES ARE SUCCESSFUL

Meanwhile Governments Of Several States Consider Plight

By The Associated Press Principally state governments and successful demonstrations to prevent mortgage foreclosure sales were hailed with joy today by farmers in widely scattered sections fighting to save their homes and lands.

In the south the Arkansas legislature prevented foreclosure measures by passing a moratorium suspending jurisdiction of Circuit and Chancery courts.

The situation has been recognized by the legislatures of Alabama and Georgia and sympathetic statements for farmers have come from the governors of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Kentucky and Mississippi.

In Georgia moratoria on all farm mortgages were declared by 15 life insurance companies doing business in the state.

From other states came reports of mortgage sales that did not succeed.

At Cherokee, Okla., such a sale resulted in the organization of a farmers' marketing association with the Rev. Claude R. Hill, the promoter. He obtained a 60-day leave of absence from his duties as pastor of the First Christian church.

Farmers in Aurora, Neb., bid top prices of 10 cents at a foreclosure sale, and in Illinois "anarchy" was charged by a mortgage holder after similar methods succeeded in farm equipment going for $4.90. Later the mortgagor attempted to haul the stuff away anyway, but an officer was stopped by farmers.

Urbana, Ill., Feb. 2—(AP)—Farmers who forebly nullified a mortgage sale at Charley Grady's farm Tuesday struck a compromise with the law of Champaign county today.

A Deputy Sheriff served a writ of replevin on Grady as the start of a court battle by W. A. Doss of Monticello to recover property which sold for $4.96 although mortgaged with him for $2,750.

Few of the chattels which sold for a few cents were in sight at the farm. Deputy Sheriff Elmer Shoaf said upon his return, but he was given the promise of 15 of Grady's neighbors that the goods would be returned to the farm by 10 A. M. tomorrow.

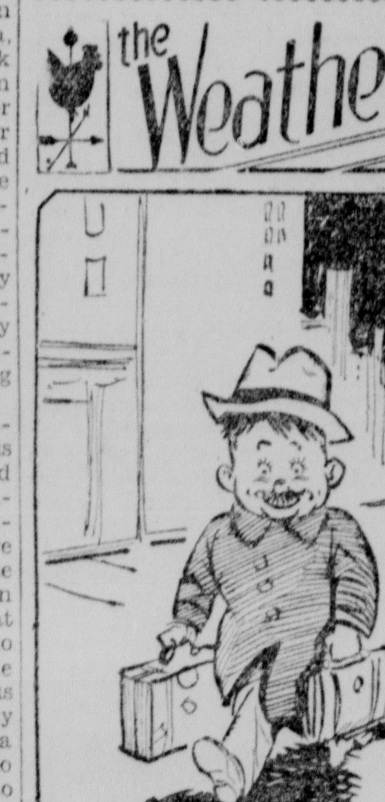

If they are not returned the farmers will give him a $2,000 bond guaranteeing their return at the conclusion of the court hearing in May on the suit of replevin filed by Doss in Champaign County Court last night.

Thus Shoaf reported to his brother, Sheriff Fred Shoaf. The deputy went to the farm alone, found Mr. and Mrs. Grady there, and served his writ. About 13 neighbors appeared in small groups and treated him courteously. Ed Monahan was their spokesman, Shoaf said.

The farmers protested the sale had been legally advertised and held, and their attorney had forwarded a draft for $4.96 to Doss today to bind it.

"I believe they will listen to reason," Shoaf said, "but they don't like outsiders taking their property."

Doss, who lives in Platt county adjoining Champaign county, has advertised several other sales of mortgaged farm property near Sados and Ivesdale to be held soon.

"Have Patience"

Stevens' Appeal
Chicago, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Patience for a few years' until prices return to "normal" was advised for holders of policies in the Illinois Life Insurance Company by its former president, Raymond W. Stevens, as he posted bond today pending arraignment on three indictments charging him with conspiracy, embezzlement and larceny.
"They will not lose a single penny of their premiums if only they will have patience and wait," Stevens said. "The present difficulty in our company are entirely the natural result of the depression."
Stevens' brother Ernest and their 80-year-old father, James W. Stevens, also signed bonds of $25,000. All were indicted yesterday on three counts. They surrendered formally and swore to the validity of their bonds.

CENTRALIA FIRE BUG AT LIBERTY PENDING APPEAL

Charles Silver Asks Probation: Turned State's Evidence

Salem, Ill., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Charles Silver, 27, former Centralia furniture merchant who was sentenced in Circuit Court here yesterday to ten years in the penitentiary after pleading guilty to arson charges in connection with a $372,000 fire in Centralia last May, was at liberty today after making application for probation.
States Attorney Ward P. Holt said today that because Silver turned state's evidence in the arson case permitting authorities to clean up an arson ring said to have operated in the middle west, consideration will be given his application.
Three members of the arson ring who pleaded guilty yesterday to setting off the fire in Silver's furniture store for a percentage of the insurance will be taken to the Southern Illinois penitentiary a few days to start serving their sentences authorities said. They are: Louis Boltman, Jack Randall and Joseph Altman, all of St. Louis.
Morris Fendelman of St. Louis, alleged to be a fourth member of the ring is scheduled to go on trial during the April term of court.

LaSalle Protests Cook Co. Relief

LaSalle, Ill., Feb. 2.—(AP)—The LaSalle relief committee today protested to the Illinois legislature against any sales tax bill which would give Cook county a greater proportion of relief funds than relief work done there in comparison with other counties of the state.
Fifty-six per cent of relief work is done in Cook county which includes Chicago, the protest said. While 90 per cent of the $20,000,000 bond issue passed at the last session of the General Assembly went to Cook.
The committee also suggested that counties be given responsibility for their own communities instead of the work being centered in the Governor's Emergency Relief Commission headed by Edward L. Ryerson, Jr. of Chicago.
It asked cooperation of other downstate counties.

DYNAMIC EDITOR OF DENVER POST DIED SUDDENLY

Spectacular Career Of Frederick Bonfils Ended This Morn

Denver, Colo., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Frederick G. Bonfils, publisher of the Denver Post, whose picturesque career has been linked with many of the spectacular events of the Rocky Mountain region for more than a quarter century, died at his home here today.
A dynamic crusader, he built up the Post, with his late associate owner, H. H. Tammen, from a small daily which they purchased in 1892, to a newspaper with circulation covering the Rocky Mountain region.
Death came unexpectedly, following a brief illness due to a complication of influenza and an ear infection. He underwent a minor operation last Saturday, but not until last night did his condition become serious.
Bonfils came into the national spotlight ten years ago when the activities of the Denver Post resulted in uncovering the Teapot Dome oil scandal. The Post's investigators uncovered leads which led to congressional investigations and court action.
Bonfils and Tammen extended their newspaper enterprise to Kansas City in the acquisition October 29, 1909, of the Kansas City Post, which they published until May 18, 1922 when it was sold by them.
Recently Bonfils sued the Rocky Mountain News of Denver for $200,000 for libel, basing the suit upon quotations from an address by Walter Walker, Grand Junction, Colo. newspaper publisher, in which Bonfils was attacked.
Attorneys for the News obtained court permission for examination of Bonfils by deposition, and in the course of the examination Bonfils objected to certain questions. This resulted in a citation for contempt of court, and a fine of $35 was imposed upon him. He appealed to the state Supreme Court against this fine.
The examination was to have proceeded in court this week but Bonfils' illness caused a postponement.
Bonfils' career was as varied and exciting as the lives of his Napoleonic ancestors. He became known throughout the country by his militant tactics and attacks at will conditions he thought needed reform.
Born in Troy, Mo., Dec. 31, 1860, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Napoleon Bonfils, the publisher, when he was 16 years old, was appointed to West Point, entering the Academy in 1878. There he met Miss Belle Barton of Peekskill, N. Y., resigned from the Academy before graduation and married her. Among his classmates were General John J. Pershing and General Crowder.
Bonfils for a time was employed in the chemical National Bank at New York City, and then traveled westward settling in Kansas City, where he was for ten years in the penitentiary after pleading guilty to arson charges in connection with a $372,000 fire in Centralia last May, was at liberty today after making application for probation.
States Attorney Ward P. Holt said today that because Silver turned state's evidence in the arson case permitting authorities to clean up an arson ring said to have operated in the middle west, consideration will be given his application.
Three members of the arson ring who pleaded guilty yesterday to setting off the fire in Silver's furniture store for a percentage of the insurance will be taken to the Southern Illinois penitentiary a few days to start serving their sentences authorities said. They are: Louis Boltman, Jack Randall and Joseph Altman, all of St. Louis.
Morris Fendelman of St. Louis, alleged to be a fourth member of the ring is scheduled to go on trial during the April term of court.

Restores Rights To Thos. Miller

Washington, Feb. 2.—(AP)—President Hoover today signed a certificate restoring citizenship to Thomas W. Miller of Wilmington, Delaware, former Alien Property Custodian, who served a sentence in the Atlanta penitentiary for frauds arising out of his handling of some of the property.
Miller was convicted of defrauding the government in a case based on the payment to Richard Merton, a German subject, of $6,453.979 in connection with the sale of the American Metals Company assets, seized by the government during the war.
Application for the restoration of Miller's citizenship rights was signed both by the District Attorney and the judge who presided at his trial.

Price War On In Automobile Tires

Akron, O., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Firestone Tire & Rubber Company provided another flurry in the series of tire price wars in various cities of the country today by announcing a five per cent cut in specified grades of tires. Other grades would be cut in "proper relation," the announcement said. Other companies said they were preparing to meet the cut or "study it" before announcing policy.
In recent weeks "dealers skirmishes" in prices have occurred in Cleveland, where prices were cut 56 per cent for one day, and other cities.
Today's statement from Firestone was the first open indication that the flurry had invaded Akron—tire headquarters of the United States.
Within a short time responding statements had come from Good-year Tire & Rubber Company, answering Firestone, and B. F. Goodrich Company.
225 BACK AT WORK
Chicago, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Officials of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad announced that 225 men employed in the manufacturing department of the Aurora, Ill. shops would return to their jobs next Monday. They had been laid off several weeks ago in conformance with an economy program of the road, the announcement said.

FARMERS' FIGHTS TO SAVE HOMES ARE SUCCESSFUL

asked a stronger measure.
In the North Dakota Senate, a proposal was heard asking for an association of allied farm legislatures. The North Dakota Senate already has passed a bill legalizing farm strikes.

MANY PROPOSALS

Washington, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Senators bent on helping the farmer were seeking today to hit upon a mortgage relief measure simply enough to stand a chance of passage at this crowded short session of Congress.
The belief was general that the broad program of agricultural rehabilitation backed by the big farm organizations would have to await the new administration and the calling of a special session.
Many a Senator and Representative expressed their views that something should be done by the federal government to stop the foreclosures which have aroused active resistance by farmers in many states.
Just what form this aid should take was in doubt but the Senate banking sub-committee studying the question today had before it numerous proposals.
Would Authorize Loans
One that found considerable favor was sponsored by Senator Hull (D., Tenn.). It would authorize the Reconstruction Corporation to devote $1,000,000,000 to loans for paying interest installments, and delinquent taxes and obtaining the agreement of the holder of the mortgage, in return for these payments, to grant a two-year postponement of foreclosure.
This plan was advanced by Hull as an "emergency" measure which would in no way interfere with the broader program bound up in the "emergency farm credit" bill introduced by the Democratic leader, Robinson of Arkansas on behalf of the farm groups.
Robinson himself has expressed the view that it might be well to get behind an emergency measure and let more permanent relief legislation await a better opportunity for the intensive consideration it would require.
His own bill calls for a $100,000,000 corporation to lend money to the farmers, strengthening of the Federal Land Banks and liquidation of the Joint Stock Land Banks.

New Requirement For M. E. Minister

Chicago, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Problems of Christian education in denominational schools were under discussion today by members of the Board of Education of the Methodist Episcopal church in annual meeting.
Speakers stressed the necessity for a knowledge of fundamental facts of the Bible and the teachings of Christ and agreed that denominational schools had done much to instill character into the students.
Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, of Washington, D. C., announced a new requirement for Methodist ministers, declaring that after the fall of 1934 all responding to that calling must have had at least one year of regular college study. The requisite would be increased in 1936 to include two years of prescribed college study, he said.

Suicide Prevented By Two Young Men

LaSalle, Ill., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Claus Olson, 67, Ogesby, leaped from the Vermillion river bridge today to the water 50 feet below and was saved from drowning by two youths who saw him drop. He said he had been without a job for months.

COMPROMISE ON BILL

Washington, Feb. 2.—(AP)—House and Senate conferees today reached a compromise agreement on a bill to turn over 350,000 bales of Farm Board cotton to relief organizations to provide clothing for the needy. The agreement cleared the way for its early enactment.

BEST CUSTOMERS OF AMERICA ARE LISTED BY DEPT.

The United Kingdom, Canada, Japan And Germany Leaders

Washington, Feb. 2.—(AP)—The United Kingdom, Canada, Japan and Germany were the best customers of the United States in 1932.
Compilations announced by the Commerce Department today show that goods exported to the United Kingdom in the twelve months were valued at $288,462,805 while Canada took $241,424,709, Japan bought $134,537,384 and Germany, $133,471,862.
All of the exports, however, were lower than in the previous year, those to the United Kingdom and Canada each by nearly $150,000,000. The total to Japan was a decrease of $21,000,000 and the German purchases dropped over $33,000,000.
The United States bought more goods from Canada and Japan than from any other nation, importing $174,101,308 from Canada—a drop of approximately $90,000,000 as compared to the previous year—and $134,011,311 from Japan—a drop of $72,000,000.
The United Kingdom sold this country merchandise worth $75,688,706, as compared to $135,452,411 the previous year. Among all the countries which purchased goods from the United States only one, Brazil, bought more in 1932 than in 1931. The exports to that country in 1932 were $28,600,128 and $28,579,023 in 1931.

Committee Posts Given Legislators

Rep. John Devine of this city has been appointed a member of the appropriations, judiciary, judicial appointment, judicial department and public utilities committees of the Illinois House. The Dixon legislator was offered the chairmanship of the appropriations committee, but declined it.
Representative Collins has been named on the insurance, judiciary, judicial appointment, military affairs, revenue and uniform laws committees.
Allen is to serve on the appropriations, conservation, farm drainage, motor vehicles and road and bridge committees.

Sleep All Night—Every Night

—Make This 25c Test—
Don't wake up for bladder relief. Physic the bladder as you would the bowels. Drive out impurities and excessive acids which cause the irritation resulting in wakeful nights, leg pains, backache, burning and frequent desire. BUKETS, the bladder physic, made from buchu, juniper oil, etc., works effectively on the bladder as castor oil on the bowels. Get a regular 25c box and after four days if not relieved of getting up nights your druggist will return your money. Make this test. You are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep. At Rowland's Pharmacy.—Adv.

COLLEGE ENROLLMENT

Monmouth, Ill., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Although there were fewer new registrations than normal, enrollment in Monmouth College for the coming semester will show the smallest decrease in recent years, officials said today. It will be five or six per cent instead of the usual ten, incomplete figures showed. The School of Music had a slight increase.

GOD ANSWERS PRAYER—

KNOW not by what methods rare,
But this I know, God answers prayer.
I know not when He sends the Word,
That tells us fervent prayer is heard.

I know it cometh soon or late,
Therefore, we need to pray and wait,
I know not if the blessing sought
Will come in just the guise I thought,
I leave my prayer to Him alone,
Whose will is wiser than my own.

Preach and Live Happiness Today Is Right Attitude

By OLIVE ROBERT BARTON
It is necessary to teach children the doctor is their friend. So often the visit of the physician is associated with unpleasant medicine, touching tender spots, dressings and small operations that hurt, to say nothing of the illness itself, that a little child is almost unnaturally if he doesn't learn to dread his coming.

Yet doctors themselves and especially those who understand children (and most of them do) are the most gentle and sympathetic people on earth. I have never experienced a practitioner, except one, who wasn't a real ministering angel to my children.

Doctors Are Friendly
Our doctors have always been our sincerest, most trusted friends and each child accepted a visit as something to look forward to with interest. We took illness as a very matter-of-fact thing. There was no horror, no excitement, no worry, at least before them, when even the most distressing diseases made their appearance.

It was the same with the dentist. I never remember a single case where we had to bribe, or threaten, or pacify one of them when a tooth had to be filled or extracted. We did not fool them and tell them it didn't hurt, but we never dwelt on the fact at all. Occasionally I had to appeal to their sporting blood and show the wisdom of attending to bad teeth, but there were no scenes.

Our dentist was a friend of theirs. He stopped to talk and joke with them when he met them on the street. And he had a way with him that soothed the most terror-stricken little hearts when they approached that office with its cold impersonal machines.

Calm Parents
There were many ways of teaching children a philosophical acceptance of unpleasant things. But I believe it necessary to accent first of all, from babyhood on, the calm attitude of the parent, him or herself. No hysteria, worry, nervousness, dread, and above all no talking up a situation before little ears peeled to the quick to catch a word of alarm. And, discount it or not, I am with those who believe that pain depends to a certain degree on the state of nerves we take to it.

It is not only doctors and dentists, however, whom children learn to dread. A child can fear or dislike any person as deeply as one who is likely to hurt him, no matter how friendly or good that person's intentions are. Indeed, he can transfer his unfriendliness to every stranger who comes to the house. This is not always caused by unpleasant experience. Some children establish themselves against society in the cradle. This is why I do not approve of the plan to segregate a baby from all people save his parents and his nurse. I think even a little baby should learn to accept

Leg of Lamb
7 pound leg of lamb
4 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon pepper
1 cup water
Wash lamb and fit into baking pan. Sprinkle with flour and bake 15 minutes in hot oven. Add 1-1/2 the water and cover with lid. Bake one hour in moderately slow oven. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and add remaining water and bake another hour and a half. Baste lamb frequently during baking period.

After lamb has been removed from the baking pan, make gravy by adding 3 tablespoons of flour which have been mixed with 2-3 cup of cold water, to the lamb drippings. Boil 2 minutes, stirring constantly.

During the last hour of baking period, potatoes may be added. They should be turned several times during cooking to brown them evenly.

Baked Peach Pudding
3 cups peaches
2-3 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 1-2 cups peach juice or water
Mix ingredients and pour into bottom of buttered shallow baking dish. Cover with crust.

Crust
2 cups flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1-4 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons lard
2-3 cup milk
Mix flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in lard with knife. Mixing with knife, slowly add milk. When soft dough forms, pat it out and fit over peach mixture. Make 4 holes in top and bake 25 minutes in moderate oven. Serve plain, with cream or lemon sauce.

Ruth Miller Ensemble Pleased Large Audience Here Last Eve

The second number of the Dixon Civic Music Association's winter program, given by the Ruth Miller Ensemble at the Methodist church last evening, delighted an audience which filled the church auditorium and which gave the three artists—a beautiful soprano, a baritone who used to be a brilliant athlete and a young violinist who promises to be one of the outstanding virtuoso performers of his generation spontaneous applause.

The artists, members of the ensemble, were: Ruth Miller, the wife of Mario Chambers, opera tenor; Frank Chapman, whose baritone voice filled the large auditorium and could just as easily have filled a vaster one; and Benno Rabinof, violinist. Their accompanist was Sanford Schlusel, a talented pianist.

Beginning with a group of songs by Miss Miller, whose voice is of particularly excellent quality in its higher reaches, the program ended with a popular bit of music-drama that delighted the auditors—the duet from the first act of Friml's opera, "The Vagabond King," sung in costume by Miss Miller and Mr. Chapman.

Miss Miller's solo groups included the first one, sung in French—"Air de Lisa" from Debussy's "L'Enfant Prodigue" and "Pedro" (Moreau) and four songs in English, "A Dissonance" (Borodin), "Iris Hills" and "At the Well" (Hagerman). She proved her ability as a dramatic singer, too, in the duet from Act 2 of Verdi's opera, "La Traviata," which she and Mr. Chapman sang in costume, with Miss Miller in the role of Violetta and Mr. Chapman as Germont.

Mr. Chapman's solo selections ranged from Mozart to cowboy ballads and "Old Man River," and included compositions by Richard Strauss, Verdi and David Guion.

Mr. Rabinof's solo groups, including music by Chopin, Kreisler, Vesscey, Szymanowski, and others, proved him a master of the bow who is willing to attempt the most trying music and able to triumph over whatever technical obstacles the composer might put in the path of his bow. His tone is deeply satisfying, and his interpretations were brilliant without being eccentric.

The program of the evening was: About fifteen Dixon people were

Velma Place Is Bride Of Today

Miss Velma Place, daughter of Mrs. Nettie Killian of this city, became the bride of Clarence E. Kinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kinn of Oregon, in a simple, but pretty, single ring ceremony performed by Dr. Gilbert Stansell, pastor of the First Methodist church at the parsonage at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The bridal couple were accompanied by Miss Elizabeth James and Ray Clinite, and immediately after the ceremony the newlyweds left for a brief honeymoon in Chicago, from which they will return Saturday to make their home at 511 Crawford avenue, where they will be home to their many friends.

This afternoon's bride was prettily gowned in poudre blue, with grey hat and slippers and carried yellow and pink tea roses; while her bridesmaid wore a green ensemble and wore a corsage bouquet of yellow tea roses.

FOUR CENTURIES OF ROMANCE.

The birthday anniversary of a city seldom means very much. But there are a few cities which occupy special places in history—cities which came into existence like dreams born of bloodshed and wonder and desire—and when one of these passes a new mile stone the event is worth looking at.

You might be interested to know, therefore, that the city of Cartagena, in Colombia, recently celebrated its 400th birthday.

It was born in 1533, when there were still living men who had sailed with Columbus when Cortez's daring raid on the empire of the Aztecs was still being talked about. Pizarro's raid on the Inca empire was still in progress. A new world was being opened, an age of gold was dawning, El Dorado was a reality which might lie just beyond the town.

So Cartagena was bound to be a city whose air would be hazy with romance, a city around which legends and dreams would cluster.

It became the chief port for the Spanish conquistadors. Twice a year it sent a great fleet of blunt-nosed, top-heavy galleons off to Spain, with breath-taking quantities of gold stowed below decks, painted sails billowing out from the creaking yards, perfumed and hard-mouthed grandees at ease in the draped cabins on the high poops.

Pirates knew Cartagena, and soldiers, and gold-hunters, and explorers—all the lustiest spirits of one of earth's lustiest periods. Francis Drake sacked the place, held it for a time against long odds, sailed away with vast riches. The French followed him, later on, and did likewise; lesser sea-rovers thundered against the sea walls of the port, some of them were caught and hanged in chains, some of them landed in the prison cells of the great fortress and died slowly, in the dark.

The fortress had walls 40 feet high and 50 feet thick. Six hundred thousand slaves are said to have been used to build it; thousands of them died before the job was done, and something like $80,000,000 was spent on it.

And it is that Cartagena which has just reached its 400th anniversary. Can any man with a feeling for romance be indifferent to the occasion?

FAME WEIGHS HEAVILY.

The national capitol is suffering from an excess of heavy marble statesmen. The famous Statuary Hall, sometimes known as the Hall of Fame and sometimes as the Chamber of Horrors, in which each state is permitted to erect statues of two of its most eminent citizens, has all the weight it can carry, according to engineers. Delaware wants to add its two statues to the collection, but unless the floor is strengthened or the total number of statues is reduced it can't be done.

This collection is surely one of the oddest features of our national life. It contains replicas of "great men" whom none but historians can remember; it contains statuary as atrocious as any that was ever carved. There is a valid place for such an institution, to be sure, but it has been handled wrong. Higher standards, both historically and artistically, could be applied to the entire collection with vast benefits.

OUR VITAL SERVICES.

The town of Mt. Carmel, Ill., recently declared an "emergency business moratorium" closing temporarily some hundred business places. It is interesting to see what establishments were considered so important to the daily life of the town that they were allowed to remain open.

Those favored institutions included grocery stores, a utility company office, bus and railroad depots—and the town's newspaper.

That list makes up a pretty fair summary of the really vital services in a community's life. And it seems to us that ranking the newspaper among those vital services is perfectly sound. Times may be good or bad, money may be easy or tight, business collapses may be few or numerous—but through it all, whatever happens, people have to know what is going on. The newspaper is a necessity of modern life.

The wish must have been father to the thought, but it takes a long time to kill off a bird like me.—James J. Walker, ex-mayor of New York, commenting on rumor of his health.

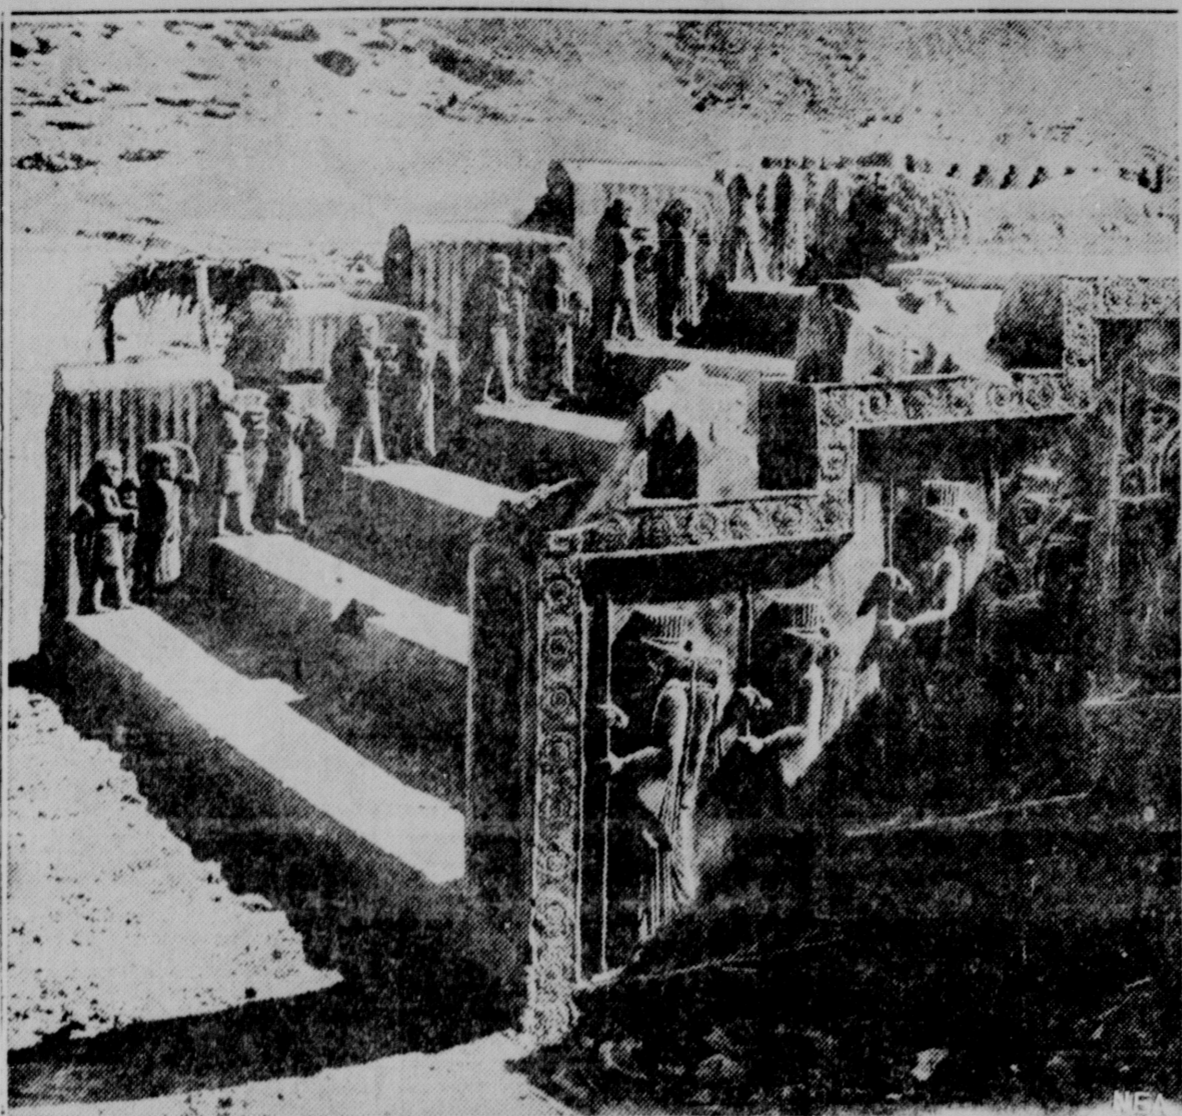

The trouble with you men from the other side of the aisle is you drink and vote wet.—Assemblyman John J. Cooney, of Brooklyn, in New York legislature.

We'll be getting back to normal when we get normal men in office in Washington.—Jules S. Bache, head of New York Exchange firm.

I ain't afraid of anything except the people.—U. S. Senator Huey Long, the Louisiana "Kingfish."

I only commenced to work when I was 50.—Former Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York on his 59th birthday.

Treasure in Unearthed Persian City

One of archaeology's greatest discoveries has been unearthed near Persepolis in Persia—a village 6000 years old wherein abound priceless treasures of sculpturing. The discovery was made by the expedition sent out by the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago and among the findings was this ornate small stairways with its panels of reliefs of the Medes and Persians. The village is two miles from Persepolis, a city destroyed by Alexander the Great who fired it at the whim of a lady of his choice.

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Jesus Chooses the Twelve

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

In the outward fame of Jesus in the place that he has occupied in history is shared by the twelve apostles, the men whom he drew from humble life and introduced into power and glory by sharing with them his mission and his purpose.

One of the twelve, it is true, proved to be a traitor, and probably in the minds of most of those who are responsive to the Christian story the place of Judas is occupied by the great figure who looms so large in the New Testament, Paul of Tarsus.

Of the twelve men who came into the inner circle of the Master's counsels and ministry of redemption comparatively little is known. Some of them are for us little more than names, although others stand very boldly and clearly portrayed in their chief traits of character, scarce as are the details of their full life history.

Impulsive Peter stands before us as a figure of flesh and blood, a strange being in the blending of courage and fear, of bold adventure and gloomy disheartenment. James and John are forever characterized in the name that Jesus bestowed upon them, "Boanerges, the sons of thunder."

We fail to understand the Master if we do not appreciate in him and in His teachings the element of humor as well as deep moral and spiritual intensity. This element of humor comes out in various of his parables in which the contrast was made very striking, and it was apparently in this spirit that he bestowed the nickname "Boanerges," upon these very fiery men, inspired with the intensity of ambition through their mother's zeal, and conceiving of the work in which they were engaged as one of glory for them and for their Master rather than as a great task of love.

It was James and John who when Jesus was discourteously received in a village, wanted him to call down fire from Heaven and consume the villagers.

Jesus reminded them that they did not know what spirit they were of, and it is the most notable evidence that the Gospel did finally lay hold of the souls of these men with all its strength and fullness that they came to perceive that love and devotion were the supreme things in the world.

It is a great mistake to think of Jesus as an unconventional teacher concerned only about speaking His message and with no interest in organization. As a matter of fact, it would appear that one of the great secrets of is power lay in the organization of His ministry in the way in which he chose the twelve and sent them forth, and later appointed seventy others to go, two by two, into the various villages proclaiming the Gospel.

What was distinctive in Jesus was that zeal for organization never weakened the emphasis upon truth and life. The nature of the organization was a fellowship of faith, and the bond that held these early disciples together in the work that they had to do was the bond of intense devotion to the cause in which Jesus had enlisted them.

It would be well today if we could learn from Jesus in these things, if all our religious organizations could be dominated with zeal for the Master, and zeal for the Master could at the same time find its most effective means of attaining its end through organization and expression.

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington —The chairmanship of the ways and means committee of the House, one of the most coveted positions in Congress, may yet bring a stroke of good luck to Jim Collier of Mississippi.

It's been a sort of jinx to the Mississippi a great part of the time he has held it. Bad luck has been his in big doses. At the beginning of the 72nd Congress when the Democrats took over the House, chairmanship of ways and means was Collier's part of the spoils.

His committee at the time was about to take up legislation as important as any ever before Congress. There was the task of balancing the budget, new tariff legislation and numerous vital problems.

Halted By Illness

Collier had scarcely assembled his committee and started work before he became ill and was forced to step aside. Crisp of Georgia became acting chairman, and wielded the gavel for most of the session winning for himself a national reputation while pinching-hitting for Collier.

Then came last summer and election time. Mississippi politics was in a snarl over redistricting. Collier found himself having to run for reelection against a sitting member. He claimed that the redistricting act was unconstitutional and made his plans to run as a candidate-at-large.

A few days before the primary the supreme court upheld the state's redistricting act. Collier withdrew and is now serving his last few weeks as a member of the House.

At the beginning of the present short session his health was such that he was able to resume the chairmanship of his committee.

He hasn't had much opportunity, however, during this session to make a name for himself.

A Break Maybe

But gossip has it that he'll get a break yet. His friends are said to be urging Roosevelt to appoint him to a vacancy on the tariff commission.

If he gets that perhaps he'll forget the hard luck that has dogged him so persistently since he took over one of the prize jobs in Congress.

PALPITATION OF THE HEART

Few common sensations are as disturbing to the average person as palpitation of the heart.

In palpitation the individual becomes acutely aware of the beating of his heart, and this awareness is at times sufficiently distressing to cause the patient to suspect that he has heart disease.

The normally contracting heart is a vigorously beating organ. Every time the heart contracts it does so with sufficient force to expel a considerable volume of blood.

In addition, the heart rotates and twists about in the chest with sufficient force to deliver a vigor-

THE TWYMANITES

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE.

"Where did those cub bears come from, son?" asked Windy. "We'll have lots of fun. They sure seem real friendly. Why not put them on the ground?"

"They're just as cute as they can be and what they'll do I'd like to see. Ah, go ahead and turn them loose and let them run around."

"I'm glad you like them," Duncy said. "I caught them 'cause I used my head. The big bear took me to her cave and then the cubs came out."

"Instead of scaring them away, I called to them to come and play. At first they didn't seem to know what it was all about."

"And then the mother growled and gee, the cubs both ran right up to me. I patted them and rubbed their fur and then they licked my hand."

"Of course I thought 'twas up to me to bring them back, so you could see the funny little fellows. I was sure you'd think them grand."

"Say! That was very kind of you,"

ous blow against the chest wall. Every one can observe this for himself by placing the tips of his fingers in the region of the heart apex on the left side of the chest.

Ordinarily, however, one remains quite oblivious of this rather vigorous impact.

This lack of awareness on the part of the individual of the impact of his heart against his chest wall is akin, for example, to one's failure to hear the tick of a clock to which one has become accustomed.

Awareness of the heart beat, or palpitation, usually arises when the heart is sped up in its contractions and when perhaps its thrusts are a little more forceful.

This change in the heart beat and possibly, too, in its force of contraction, implies a change of rhythm, and it is this change of rhythm that calls the attention of the individual to his heart.

Palpitation often follows strenuous muscular effort, but usually subsides promptly when the extra demands made on the circulatory system stop.

In certain disease conditions of the heart, however, palpitation may persist, since the heart is required to increase the rate of its contrac-

SHARPE'S QUINT HAS CHANCE FOR SECOND POSITION

Victory Over Belvidere Here Tomorrow Night Would Be Sweet

By Don Hilliker
Tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock in the north side gymnasium the cage squads of Dixon and Belvidere meet in a North Central double-header. The major tilt will see Dixon attempting to pull into a tie for the league's runner-up position. On the following Saturday evening, Dixon goes to Polo for a non-conference battle.

Aside from the natural attraction of a Belvidere-Dixon game two other new features are scheduled. The Dixon Junior Civic band organization, will be present and perform under the leadership of Director C. B. Price. Also Dixon will appear with new purple jerseys. The latter are all purple with white lettering. For road games Dixon now has white shirts with purple letters.

This will be the second game between Dixon and Belvidere to be played this season. With King getting fourteen points in the Belvidere "cracker-box gym" tomorrow visitors won the first tilt, 28-21. However, it was a hard-earned victory. Dixon staging a rally to pull up to a 26-19 score with four minutes to play. King's last basket clinched the decision. With the game being played on its own court Dixon has its best chance to "take" Belvidere and mark up its first win over the Boone invaders.

Practice this week is being concentrated on Belvidere. Coach L. E. Sharpe hopes to improve the conference standing and then meet up with Polo. For Friday's contest Dixon will have either Henry, Underwood or E. Flanagan at forward. Speed is an asset to this trio, especially noticeable in last week's games. Strong will jump center and then shift to guard. Hasselberg is the other guard. Bellows takes the pivot position after the tipoff. Bellows, Underwood and Henry accounted for 36 of the 49 points scored against Rochelle and Rock Falls. If the team can keep it up then Belvidere's jinx may be broken.

Since the first Dixon-Belvidere game Coach Art Patrick of Belvidere has made some alterations in his lineup. King and Cunningham are now the regular forwards. Pel is the upper hand at center, while Kiestler, formerly the regular center is on the sub list. Incedion and Schrader are the guards. After trimming Dixon the Belvidere crew took Rochelle, 28-22, and Mendota, 25-19 in conference competition. The latter game shows a decline in Patrick's squad or considerable improvement in the Mendota crew, as the game was played on the Belvidere floor. Sterling beat Belvidere, 19-12, while Rockford of the Big Six league took them 32-28.

Dixon's B team holds an 11-7 win over Belvidere. Since then Belvidere lost to Sterling, Mendota and Rochelle. Coach C. B. Lindell has W. Flanagan, Grove, Cinnamon, Krug and Nicolosi ready for tomorrow's preliminary.

After the Belvidere set of games Dixon will play only two more, contests on its floor. With Belvidere and Dixon playing and the boys band as an added attraction, the largest crowd so far is expected.

OKLA. MERCHANT LAUDS GLY-CAS

Feels Sure There Are Many People That Have Needed a Medicine Like Gly-Cas For Years.

"Absolutely everything failed to give me any relief at all until I began taking this new Gly-Cas," said Mr. Bert McAlister, 912 East 4th Street, Okmudge, Okla., "well-known merchant of that city."

MR. BERT McALISTER

the past five years I had suffered dreadful with indigestion, everything I ate seemed to form gas, bloated so, didn't care to eat many foods for the terrible pain it would cause me afterwards. But finally I began taking Gly-Cas and now before completing the full course all that indigestion, bloating and gas has been entirely eliminated. I eat anything I want and feel fine. My wife has been badly constipated and was terribly nervous, but Gly-Cas gave her the same remarkable results it gave me and we both join in praising this new medical discovery."

Gly-Cas is sold by Campbell's White Cross Pharmacy and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.

Gossip About Baseball Stars And Near Stars

New York Feb. 2—(AP)—With 21 players under contract and Manager Bill Terry due to reach town today, the New York Giants are expected to hear of something happening soon.

Terry, who first set the pace in trading during the major league meetings in December and then led the way in "getting players" names on contracts, has the annual Baseball Writers' dinner as the principal purpose of his visit with some discussion of the situation with club officials on the side. But Giant fans will be rather disappointed if he returns to Manhattan without doing any dickering for new players. It is known that he is looking for another good outfielder and a starting pitcher, perhaps Dazzy Vance of Brooklyn.

Three more signed contracts reached the Giant offices yesterday to make up the 21 total. They bore the names of Gilbert English and Arthur McFarlane, young infielders, and Harry Danning, who caught for the Giant's Winston-Salem farm last season.

The one-a-day system of the Brooklyn Dodgers was continued today with the word that Clyde Sukeforth, reserve catcher, who did comparatively little work for the Dodgers last season, had sent in his contract with signature affixed.

The Boston Red Sox reported the signing of two important members of their 1933 cast. They were Dale Alexander, slugging first baseman who led the American League batters after coming from Detroit last year, and Bob Seeds, outfielder obtained in a trade with the Chicago White Sox.

Two rookies from the south had the way paved for them to get into the major leagues if they can make the grade. Joe Hornsby, 18-year-old infielder from the Atlanta City League, joined up with the St. Louis Cardinals while George Sanders, University of Richmond freshman pitcher, was considering a tryout offer from Washington.

Garner of DeKalb will work Friday's games.

On Saturday afternoon starting at 2 o'clock the Dixon grade school All-Stars run into real opposition when they play Freeport. Dixon's graders have swept through a six-game schedule without a defeat, taking Sterling, twice, Rochelle, twice and Amboy and Rock Falls, once.

RUTH DOES NOT GO IN MUCH FOR SELF-ANALYSIS

Bambino Is Not One To Live On What He's Accomplished

(The following story is the third of a series of four on Babe Ruth.)
By ALAN GOLD
Associate Press Sports Editor
New York, Feb. 2—(AP)—It isn't because he has read much of Rudyard Kipling's poems that Babe Ruth has seldom stopped to consider the work he has done.

The slugger, whose exploits take up page after page of baseball record books, does not go in much for self-analysis or retrospection. Things happen to or for or against the Babe. He doesn't fuss about the reasons or live on reminiscences.

Consequently it was something like prying candy from a small boy to get him to concentrate on an examination of his big league record and list his most thrilling diamond experiences which follow:

1. The 2-1 victory he pitched for the Red Sox over Brooklyn in the 1916 world series, holding the Dodgers scoreless after the first inning and beating Sherrod Smith in a 14-inning battle. Longest game ever played in the championship round.

2. The one-handed running catch he made off Frankie Frisch

DIXON LADIES IN VICTORY OVER A STERLING QUINT.

While Local Recreation Team Defeats An Independent Outfit

Dixon's Ladies bowling team No. 2 won their three game series with the Sterling Ladies team No. 2 by a majority of 94 pins. Dixon's team counts were as follows: 619, 648, 661, totaling 1928. Sterling rolled games of 676, 558, 609, for a three game series of 1843.

High individual single game was rolled by Lucy Bovey, with a nice count of 178 her final game, her series of 484 taking honors in this event also. Miss Henry of Sterling was high individual for Sterling with a total of 399 for her three games.

Local Contest

The Dixon Recreation defeated a picked team of bowlers from the city Saturday evening on the local alleys, winning by a margin of 262 pins, high team single game of 107 being rolled by the Recreation, who also totaled 2888 for their series against 2626 for the Dixon Independents. William Lowery outpointed every one by getting a big single game of 267 his second game and totaling 643 for high series.

for the last out in the fourth and last game of the 1928 world series, abruptly ending a desperate rally by the St. Louis Cardinals in their home park.

3. The dramatic home run he hit off Charley Root in the third game of the 1927 world series at Chicago, a tremendous clout over the centerfield barrier, his second of the game and a blow that knocked Root out of the box besides knocking the last, lingering resistance out of the Cubs.

At the time it did not occur to Ruth that he had, off-hand named three events that promptly emphasized his amazing versatility, first as a great southpaw pitcher, later as a brilliant defensive outfielder and, lastly, as the most destructive batsman in the history of the game.

Most of his pitching equipment, the Babe recalls, consisted of a fast ball, a faster one and pretty good control. But for that matter, he asks, what else did Walter Johnson have in his prime, or even Lefty Grove?

Hooks and Slides

By WILLIAM BRAUCHER

The good senior from Havana, still wants to "peetch." And when spring comes and the New York Giants unload their trappings at Los Angeles, Adolfo Luque will be there.

The month of August will bring a 43rd birthday for the gray thatched senior who made his major league debut with the Boston Braves 20 years ago. "Lukey," called him by the way, one of the few names Robble ever called by his right name, came up from Havana to pitch for the old Long Branch team of the New York-New Jersey League in 1912, the year when Rabbit Maranville, still a kid, was playing with the New Bedford club of the Northeastern League.

ROBBIE RAVES—

The name of Luque will always recall to this writer a memory of Uncle Wilbert Robinson and his last years with Brooklyn. Robble, for years had admired the old senior's smooth slinging. Luque never was a man who depended upon his throwing ability. There was a little bit of brain that went along with each pitch.

Luque, wearing a hard luck Cincinnati uniform, used to give the Robbys fits. Uncle Robble, sitting on the Brooklyn bench in those days, inevitably would say: "Why can't you guys hit that old Lukey? He ain't got a thing." The senior indeed didn't seem to have a thing.

But control! Luque always knew where to place the sphere, and he had the ability to put it there. Inside, outside, high, low—when Ivy Wingo called the spot Adolfo Luque would put it right there.

"What a pleasure it is to watch old Lukey work!" I remember Robble exclaiming at the Robbys' training base at Clearwater the first time Adolfo appeared on the mound for the Robbys in a practice game. "These young fellows try to get the ball over the plate. They wind up with a prayer, hoping the ump's won't call a ball. But Lukey never wonders about that. He pitches to a spot."

CANT OUTGUESS HIM—

Uncle Robble always had his theories about "guess hitters," those fellows who try to figure out what the pitcher is about to throw by their posture.

"Nobody could guess with that old Lukey," Robble would say. "They are sunk when they try to guess with him. He's been guessing too long. He always guesses right."

"Suppose a batter guesses high, outside. You know what he'll get from Lukey, don't you? Low curve on the inside. I'm an old catcher myself, and I have watched this Lukey pitch for 15 years. He just ain't being outguessed."

Luque spent 12 tough years with the Reds, suffering one world series experience, that goofy series of 1919. The senior only appeared in five innings of that struggle, being sent in in two games. He allowed one hit in those five innings. Maybe he should have been sent in more often. But the facts that since have transpired indicate the Reds didn't need Luque to win that one.

windows. It was raining.

Wilce Non-Committal

At Columbus, O., Dr. Wilce was non-committal except to admit that he had been approached about the position "the same as probably twenty or more other coaches."

Clark Shaugnessy, present coach at Loyola University at New Orleans; Glenn Thistlethwaite, former University of Wisconsin and Northwestern coach, and Pat Page, chief assistant to Stagg, were other reported candidates.

One University of Chicago athletic leader, who asked that his name be withheld, said his guess was that the new coach would be someone who hadn't been mentioned yet.

"I'll bet Mr. Metcalf has selected the new coach long ago and that he won't be anybody who has ever coached in the Big Ten. My impression is that they want an outsider to smooth over a rather unsettled condition brought about by Coach Stagg's retirement. But then, maybe Dr. Wilce is the man."

Coach Stagg planned to confer with Dr. Tully Knowles of the College of the Pacific tomorrow on a coaching position there. Dr. Knowles is in Chicago for the annual Methodist educational conference.

Results Last Night

Ghouls 39; Battery Shop 21
Reynolds 26; Ashton 23
Beier's 17; Polo 11.

With their fourth straight win, a 39-21 verdict over the Battery Shop, the Dixon Ghouls are assured of at least a tie for first honors in the second round of the Commercial League.

In the other games of last evening's contests the Reynolds remained in the running by a close 26-23 decision against Ashton. After the triumph of last week over Ashton the Beier's Loafers came through again to upset Polo and win 17-11.

The best games of the weekly show were the last two. In the second on the program the Reynolds took Ashton 26-23. Jumping out in front early the Reynolds led 11-5 at the quarter. However, Ashton offered some opposition in the following period to creep up to a 19-15 score. Each team grabbed four scores in the next period giving Reynolds the 23-19 advantage. A last minute rally by Ashton made the score 24-22 but a basket clinched the game for the second placers. Moyer brought his scoring total for the nine games played thus far to an even 100. He had five baskets and four free tosses. Joyce was runner up with five baskets and one free throw.

In the final game Polo suffered its fourth defeat of the season's play in the local gym. Each team counted a free throw in the first quarter for a 1-1 deadlock. Dixon pushed up six scores in the next period to lead 7-5 at the half. In the next period Dixon again tallied a half dozen points to Polo's two and were ahead 13-7. Leading 13-11 with four minutes to play the Beier's crew decided the issue when Underwood made good on a pair of free shots and Cortright scored on an out of bounds play. The final was 17-11. Hasselberg and Fane led the scorers each counting two baskets and a free toss. Cortright and Gilbert were second on two baskets each.

What started out to be an upset developed into an easy 39-21 for the leading Ghouls in the first game of the trio. The Dixon Battery Shoppers hopped off to a 7-2 lead at the quarter. Then the Ghouls began and while holding the Shoppers to a zero score ran up 17 points in the second period for a half's lead of 19-7. A four point spurt in the opening minutes of the last half threatened but the winners coasted along, leading 29-14 at the quarter and finally ending on top of the 39-

21 count. Carlson cracked eight baskets for sixteen points to head the scorers. Bollman and Hilliker had nine each for second position. Next Wednesday the Ghouls and Reynolds Wire Co. battle it out to decide whether the former shall cop the second round flag. Two other good cage games match Beier's and the Battery Shop and Polo vs Ashton.

PER CAPITA TAX ON ILLINOISANS PLACED AT $84.47

Amount Is $10.00 Higher Than Average For Entire Nation

Washington, Feb. 2 —(AP)—The per capita burden of taxation placed by the State of Illinois and the government of the United States on the shoulders of Illinois citizens is $84.47, more than $10 higher than the average of $74.47 for the Nation.

Comparing it with that paid by some other states, Illinoisans are comparatively well off. The highest, the per capita tax of Delaware was $217.39, while the lowest, that of Georgia, was $26.79.

Illinois' state taxes, per capita, are $59.46, while those of the federal government on Illinois citizens are $25.01.

In its report on double taxation made by a subcommittee to the Committee on Ways and Means, the total taxes paid by citizens of the state was $644,536,072. Of that amount, the state and its subdivisions took $453,748,901, while the United States took $190,787,171.

The estimated taxable wealth in Illinois was set at $22,520,980,660; the population 7,630,654.

The committee reported that taxation had increased $182,272,901 between the years of 1922 and 1931 inclusive. The collections in 1922 was $271,476,000, while that of '33 was $453,748,901. The percentage of increase was 67.14. The average increase for the nation was 28.32 per cent.

During that period the population increased 1,303,301, or 15.60 per cent. The per capita per cent increase was 45.87.

Of the $453,748,901 paid by the citizens into the state coffers, the state took $110,658,901, while the counties, municipalities and other civic divisions took $353,090,000.

As for double taxation, the report declared that both the federal and state governments levied taxes on incomes of Illinois citizens, but this statements was made before the Illinois Supreme Court ruled that the state's income tax unconstitutional.

The government does, however, levy a 1 cent per gallon tax on gasoline, while the state collects 3 cents per gallon.

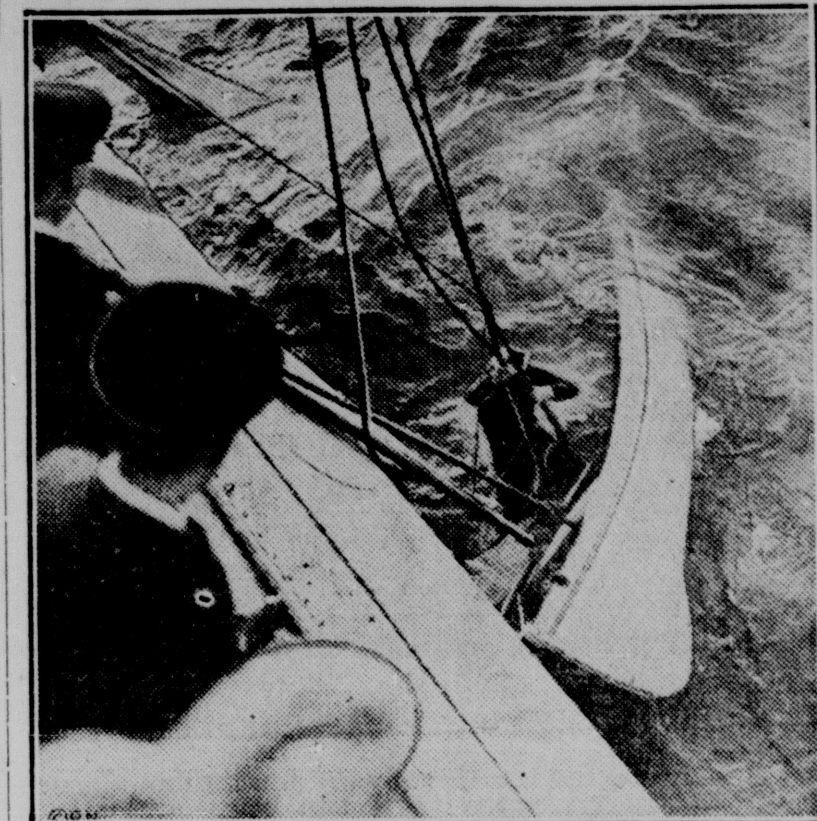

Illinois was also listed as one of the nine states which collected what might be termed as a "general sales tax"—the committee explaining that the tax on gasoline constitutes such an act.

Illinois also collects ten percent of the gross receipts on all boxing matches, partially duplicating the governments tax of ten per cent on all amusements.

Illinois also duplicates government assessments on estate and inheritance gifts.

Beyond that point, the committee reported, Illinois is comparatively free of double taxation.

Old Davy Jones' Locker Opened Wide for 'Em

The water was green and deep, and swirled hungrily about this little whaleboat after it had turned turtle and pitched six of Britain's sailors into Arosa Bay, Spain, during maneuvers. You see one of them, waist deep in water, attaching tackle to salvage the boat after all hands were saved.

ing how such a reorganization would be a great economy to the taxpayer.

He told how in his travels all throughout the surrounding farming districts he had talked with many farmers who will be unable to pay their 1932 taxes. As Mr. Prescott is a member of the Dixon School Board and has an understanding of the conditions in the surrounding country we hope that the Lee County Taxpayers Association will cooperate with Mr. Prescott in bringing about a drastic reduction in the salaries and expenses of that department.

The Sheriff and Deputy Sheriff should be highly commended by the Taxpayers Association for the very excellent financial report they gave showing a large balance of fees credited to the county over their expenses of the office; he also stated the Sheriff's salary is $1700 a year, the same as pre-war time. They have been successful in capturing many violators of the Eighteenth Amendment and have reimbursed the County with these fines.

If other public officials could show as good a financial report the taxpayers of Lee County would have no reason for complaint.

During Mr. Keller's terms of office he turned into the County Treasury $50,000 in fines. We note that now the Federal officers are taking all cases to Ottawa, Ill., to Federal Courts, thus Lee County receives no benefits from the fines. The Lee County Taxpayers Association should have an explanation of this.

(Signed) Taxpayer.

Income Taxes Explained By Commissioner

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of three articles explaining the new income tax law.)

By DAVID BURNETT
Commissioner of Internal Revenue
Washington, Feb. 2 —(AP)—After having arrived at the amount of net income to be reported, individual taxpayers are entitled to certain exemptions as follows:

Personal exemption of $1,000 for single persons and $2,500 for married persons living together, and heads of families, is allowed. Where separate returns are filed by husbands and wife the exemption of $2,500 may be taken by either spouse or divided between them. In addition, a taxpayer may claim a credit of $400 for each dependent, that is, for each person under 18 years of age or incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective.

The term "mentally or physically defective" includes persons in ill-health and the aged. If husband and wife both contribute to the support of a dependent, the $400 credit must be taken by the one contributing the chief support and may not be divided between them.

Neither relationship nor residence with the taxpayer is essential to a claim of $400 credit for a dependent. The taxpayer and the dependent may be residents of different cities or unrelated.

A taxpayer, though single, who supports in one household one or more relatives over whom he exercises family control, is the head of a family and entitled to the reduction of force still is going on, the B. & O. president said, and he expects the line to earn its interest charges during this year without borrowing from the Reconstruction Corporation.

Willard said a good portion of B. & O. indebtedness was in bonds maturing in 1935 and, in response to questions, added there was no sinking fund to care for them at maturity.

Willard testified after the viewpoint of the Interstate Commerce Commission had been presented by Commissioner Eastman. He opposed the Couzens measure to forbid the Reconstruction Corporation from making further loans to railroads. He expressed confidence in the future of the railroads.

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

Senate Probes R. F. C. B. & O. Loans

Washington, Feb. 1 —(AP)—Delving into the affairs of the Baltimore & Ohio, one of the biggest railroad borrowers from the Reconstruction Corporation, a Senate committee learned from Daniel Willard today that the road had cut its list of employees by half during the last three years.

Reduction of force still is going on, the B. & O. president said, and he expects the line to earn its interest charges during this year without borrowing from the Reconstruction Corporation.

DANCE OF SPRING

Fort Worth, Tex. —Residents of Postepco Heights were almost deceived into believing that spring had suddenly arrived when they saw a man doing a spring dance clad only in his "beveedees." The man was arrested for being intoxicated, but he told Judge M. H. Boynton that he had been helped up and robbed of his clothes and $15.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

COMMENDS SHERIFF

The County Superintendent of Highways of Lee County in his talk before the Lee County Taxpayers Association brought to their attention a certain article printed in the Dixon Evening Telegraph, January 16 pertaining to the construction of a cement road at Harmon and the contemplation of the reconstruction of North Galena Avenue and East Second Street, by the City County and the State Highway Department of Illinois. He denounced this article as "mud slinging." We noted that he did not contradict any statement made in either proposition. He only conveyed the idea that the gravel from the Harmon road was used somewhere else. The Highway Superintendent informs us that he is a taxpayer, paying $150 in taxes, but he does not state that his present salary is $3600 a year. If we remember correctly L. B. Neighbour held this same position for several years for $2500 a year.

George Prescott gave a very instructive talk on reorganizing our county form of government show-same exemption allowed a married person, $2,500. Also he may claim a $400 credit for each dependent. A taxpayer who supports in his home minor children over whom he exercises family control is classified as the head of a family, even though the children may have an income of their own sufficient for their maintenance. If he does not support them, even though he does exercise family control, he cannot be classified as the head of a family.

To avoid error, taxpayers should note carefully the provisions of the Revenue Act which relates to the personal exemption and credit for dependents where a change of status occurs during the taxable year. If the status of a taxpayer changes during the year, the personal exemption allowed to a single person, a head of a family, or a married person living with husband or wife, and the credit for dependents must be apportioned according to the number of months during which the taxpayer occupied each status. For the purpose of such apportionment a fractional part of a month is disregarded, unless it amounts to more than half a month, in which case it is considered a full month.

BRIDGING SAN FRANCISCO BAY TO BEGIN SOON

Bids On Great Project Will Be Opened During This Month

Washington, D. C. — Energetic San Francisco is about to begin work on one of the largest bridge projects in history. Bids will soon be opened for the construction of a series of mighty spans which will link downtown San Francisco with its neighbor Oakland, eight miles across San Francisco Bay.

Frederick Simph, in a communication to the Washington, D. C. TNESTH ESTH ESHT ETH NNU headquarters of the National Geographic Society, describes the proposed bridge and the teaming city which will realize a 50-year dream when the span is completed.

"Remember that San Francisco stands on a peninsula," he writes. "North and east of it spreads the great harbor; to the west, the Pacific. So most travelers reach it by water.

Blast of Ferryboat Whistles
"San Francisco's voice is the hoarse blast of ferryboats on the Bay. That sound never ceases. Counting commuters, nearly 55,000 people a year pass through the vast Ferry Building at the foot of Market Street, a city within itself.

"For years men have talked of a bridge across the Bay tying San Francisco to Oakland. Now it is assured—a toll bridge, to be part of the State highway system. An engineers' boat loiters near Yerba Buena Island. On board are world authorities on foundations and bridge building. Deep borings are made to determine the structure of the earth far under the Bay, for this will be a colossal feat. Nearly eight miles long and rising to a height of 680 feet, the bridge will take five years to build. The estimated cost is $75,000,000.

"Planned as a double decker, it will carry nine lanes of automobiles and two tracks of street cars. At present the Bay ferryboats haul about four and a half millions of vehicles each year. The new bridge will be able to handle 15,000 vehicles an hour, at the peak of traffic and may carry as many as 40,000,000 a year, the engineers estimate.

"Still another bridge, higher, but shorter, is also being surveyed, actually to span the picturesque Golden Gate itself, that spectacular breach in the Coast Range through which, long ago, a great river flowed and which still forms the only flood gate for draining the vast inland valley of Central California.

"You can think of this Bay as a great turning-around basin for ships of all nations. In a year, between 7,000 and 8,000 vessels sail in and out of the Golden Gate. Once California was the Union's greatest wheat exporter; now, on boats from this Bay you find the first ten items in point of value to be mineral oils, dried fruits, canned fruits, barley, cigarettes, automobiles, canned milk, sardines, redwood lumber, and wheat flour. "Richard Dana, writing a century ago, said: 'If ever California becomes a prosperous country, the Bay will be the center of its prosperity.' A bold prophecy then, for the land was empty. Now more than 1,750,000 people live about the Bay in Alameda, Berkeley, San Jose, Oakland, San Francisco—in all the sixty-odd towns and cities that cluster on the Peninsula and along the Bay shores.

"San Francisco is one of our richest cities per capita, in real and personal property; yet one of the most democratic. You may see a fastidious old gentleman bay flowers from a street vendor, then climb on a tiny cable car for a five-cent ride to club or mansion on the hill. At sea-food lunch stands millionaires stop for a crabmeat cocktail or a hot clam broth, rubbing elbows with newscollege, Mt. Vernon, Iowa on Sunday afternoon.

Lee Center high school will play the local high school in a double header, basketball game, at the gym here on Friday evening. The first game will start promptly at 7:30 and will be followed shortly by the main game.

Holders of season tickets to high school games are notified that the game which was scheduled for Feb. 10 has been changed to February 9th. The reason for the change is the fact that there will be no school Friday.

Glenn Schrom of Waverly, Ill. was a guest of Miss Marjorie Newenham at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Thompson over the week end.

H. M. Chaon's fifth annual sale, of his entire high class merchandise will continue until next Saturday evening. Next Saturday a long list of specials will be on display for the final day.

Smith Banks visited with friends at Rockford over Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ott entertained a number of friends to bridge on Saturday evening.

The Compton Athletic club will have some rather fast competition in the next two weeks, when they meet Paw Paw there, in the first basketball game to be played between the two towns, since some four years ago, on February 7th, followed by Steward at Steward on the ninth, and Shabbona here on the 14th.

M. E. Ladies Aid is carrying out the following plan for raising funds this year: five groups of about fifteen ladies each have been organized, with Mrs. Daisy Tribbets, Miss boys.

"To boisterous San Francisco of gold-dust days, music and drama were born in those noisy nights when shouting miners threw nuggets at the twinkling feet of Lotia Crabtree, and Lola Montez danced 'The Spider' to forget her romance with Ludwig, mad King of Bavaria.

"Now new stars rise on bigger and better stages to entertain the growing city. In the Civic Auditorium, where opera is sung, 11,000 people may find seats; and the city's Symphony Orchestra ranks with America's best. It has an opera association which supports a permanent ballet, chorus, and its own scenery painters; its Chamber Music Society tours the Nation."

SEA SCOUT SHIP HERE PRESENTED WITH A CHARTER

National Director Thos.
J. Keane Made Presentation Talk

Last evening Dixon's new Sea Scout Ship had the honor of being presented its charter from national headquarters by Lieut. Commander Thomas J. Keane, National Director of Sea Scouting from New York City. A delegation of 75 leaders and Sea Scouts representing Sterling, Mt. Morris, Oregon, Rockford and Dixon assembled in the east end Reynolds Wire Company plant for the presentation.

At 6 o'clock 22 leaders of Sea Scouting met at the Hotel Dixon for a banquet at which time the National Director gave a short address on the Sea Scout program and how it affects young men of the present day. Through the courtesy of Arnold LaFour, a two foot model of a ship adorned the center of the speaker's table. Promptly at 7:30 the Sea Scout leaders adjourned to the east end Reynolds plant, where a regular land ship meeting took place. Inspection of crews by Lieut. Commander Thomas J. Keane proved an interesting event.

Following the ship meeting, the National Director answered many questions concerning the Sea Scout program. Promptly at three bells or 9:30 ship time, Lieut. Commander Keane presented the new ship with its charter. E. C. Risley is skipper of the ship while Virgil Carrier and Kenneth Abbott are mates. The ship committee members were next presented with their certificates of office and the ship meeting adjourned.

Visitors P. L. Many visitors from surrounding towns were present thus showing the enthusiasm which this new program is being met throughout the area. Blackhawk Area Council and Scout Executive George C. Drabach were fortunate in securing the presence of Lieut. Commander Keane for the official presentation of the Dixon ship's charter. The guest of honor left immediately after the close of the meeting for Milwaukee, Wis., where he was scheduled to conduct a similar meeting.

Out of town leaders and Sea Scouts attending the meeting included Skipper Allen of Mt. Morris; Skipper Loos of Sterling; Allen Brantingham, commodore of Rockford; Ralph Ludlow, district commissioner of Sterling; William Dwyer, field commissioner; Rev. A. B. Whitcombe, Lee Co. commissioner; Edward Vail, vice president of the area from Dixon; Ralph Core of the ship committee; H. T. Baker, well also of the ship committee; George Hill first mate of the Sterling ship; A. V. Newman, Scout field executive of the local council; O. F. Goeke, local Council of Honor chairman; John L. Davies, William Jacobs, ship committee man, Sterling; Milo Timmerman, Mt. Morris; George Cann, Oregon; Paul Smith, first mate, Oregon; Mr. Robbins, of Mt. Morris, vice president; D. D. Brenner of the local ship's committee.

Because of the special meeting last evening there will be no ship meeting Thursday evening. The next regular meeting will be at 7:30 next Thursday at the headquarters in the east end Reynolds plant. Dixon's ship has been given the number 112 by the National council.

FREDERICK KESTER

(Contributed)

Frederick Kester was born in Germany, Dec. 31, 1844 and died at his home in Nelson, Jan. 26, 1933. He was the eldest of a family of eleven children and when a small boy came with his family to America. With the exception of a few years spent in Nebraska his entire life was spent in Lee county. He enlisted in the Civil War March 13, 1865 at Dixon, Ill., and joined Sherman's army at Savannah, Ga. He was a member of Co. A, 34th Illinois volunteer infantry and was discharged July 12, 1865 at Louisville, Ky. He leaves a wife, six children, eight grandchildren, four great grandchildren, three sisters and four brothers.

AUTOGIROS INCREASE

Washington.—With the close of 1932, there were 70 autogiros in active daily service in the United States, according to reports. These are being used for a wide variety of purposes, such as advertising, communication, prospecting, forest fire control, police work and shuttle service. There has been a steady increase in the performance of this type of plane.

Farmers are said to "lose about 70 per cent of all the food products they require."

Brief Summary of Last Night's News

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
ILLINOIS:

CHICAGO—A young Negro bandit selected the so-called world's busiest corner—State and Madison Streets—to stage a holdup during the height of shopping hours. He succeeded—escaping in the crowd after robbing a variety store cashier of $435.

WASHINGTON—Issuance of a series of commemorative stamps for the Century of Progress Exhibition with special cancellation of all outgoing Chicago mail was asked of Postmaster General Brown by Mrs. Jacob Bauer and Mrs. James Hamilton Lewis.

CHICAGO—The appeal of Ralph L. Peck, former President of the First National Bank of Palestine, from his conviction on charges of embezzling about $26,000 of the bank's funds was taken under advisement by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. Peck was sentenced to two years in prison and fined $2,000. Owen A. West, government prosecutor in the case, said.

SHELBYVILLE—A great team—Nellie Jo Kessel, 18, and her cow. Together they broke state and national records when Nellie extracted 184 pounds of milk in two and a half minutes from the cow to win the Illinois milk maids' contest. The previous state record was 115 pounds of milk, and the national, 13 pounds.

CHICAGO—Vacant lots and idle fields would be set out in gardens for the unemployed this year, Wilfred S. Reynolds, executive secretary of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission announced. Reynolds went to Urbana to seek advice of farm experts of the University of Illinois.

WINNETKA—This north shore suburb laid claim to having the lowest tax rate for municipal government of any surrounding community. H. L. Woolhiser, village manager, said earnings of a municipally-owned electric light plant help solve many financial problems.

CHICAGO—A 16-year-old self-confessed joy rider who stole about 200 cars in 15 months was sentenced to serve a term of one to 20 years at Pontiac reformatory. He is Raymond Ramazine. He admitted escaping four times from the St. Charles reformatory.

CHAMPAIGN—The Illinois State Florists Association elected Otto Amling, Maywood, president; P. C. Schafer, Aurora, vice president, and F. L. Washburn, Bloomington, treasurer. The latter two were re-elected.

SPRINGFIELD—Two men were and an automobile and a small amount of money stolen by two bandits who first appeared at a used car sales lot. Edgar Brooks, Negro attendant, said he drove them to the outskirts of the city where they locked him in a freight car. Later they held up Dallas Jones at a filling station and forced him to accompany them a few miles outside the city.

CHAMBERLAIN'S VIEWS NOT HELD FINAL POSITION

British Chancellor's "No
Swapping" Talk Not Conclusive

Washington, Feb. 2.—(AP)—The disposition in many quarters today was to regard Neville Chamberlain's "no swapping" war debts statements as the views of one cabinet member and not definitely indicative of the final position of the British government will assume in the forthcoming discussions.

This opinion was backed by a general calling of attention to the stand taken by President-elect Roosevelt in expressing a willingness to hear the pleas of debtor nations and the recent conference between Roosevelt and Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British Ambassador. Sir Ronald now is en route to London with a full outline of the incoming President's thoughts on the subject and he will place them before the MacDonald cabinet early next week. Unquestionably what Sir Ronald has to say will carry the greatest weight in formulating Great Britain's policy.

Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, told American correspondents in London yesterday that Britain does not record the debts talks in March as a "great swapping deal." He said the "conception of concessions by Great Britain in return for the scaling down of war debts is not a British conception."

Not long afterwards Senate leaders here issued a plain warning that the British cannot expect debt adjustments without giving compensations.

In a formal statement Chairman Borah of the Senate Foreign Relations committee said that if Britain will not consider other world problems in connection with debts "we have no alternative but to stand by the debt settlement heretofore made."

Girl, 18, Accuses Pastor in Indiana Church Scandal

The Rev. G. Lemuel Conway, pastor of a Muncie, Ind., church is involved in scandal charges brought by an 18-year-old high school senior, Miss Helen Huffman. The Rev. Conway is shown above with his wife and five children. He has denied Miss Huffman's story, told to a grand jury, that he made improper advances to her. The charges became public when the Rev. Conway created a furore in his church during a service when he struck William F. Aurand, choir leader, knocking him from the choir box. The pastor said Aurand had spread Miss Huffman's "scandalous story."

INITIAL SESSION FARMERS' SCHOOL HELD LAST NIGHT

Prof. John Weiss Discussed Profitable
Agriculture

By Harry L. Quick
The adult farmers' short course of study under the supervision of Prof. John N. Weiss, Dixon high school agricultural instructor last evening held its first meeting of a series which will be held at the high school building every Wednesday evening during the remainder of the winter.

The subject that was taken up at the initial meeting was "What Is Profit, and How to Make It." The first thing discussed under this head was, Factors Help Reduce Cost of Production. The several points brought out in the open discussion were:

1. Increase the yield per acre.
2. Reduce labor costs.
3. Select the best seed possible.
4. Use efficient machinery.
5. Have uniformly shaped fields.
6. Keep fences in good repair.
7. Test the soil for lime and phosphate before sowing clovers.
8. Proper preparation of seed beds.
9. Balance production according to individual farm need.
10. Use efficient control of insects and diseases.
11. Diversification of crops and live stock, to equally distribute labor throughout the year.
12. Grow the crops that are adapted to the soil, climate and market.
13. Doing the right labor at the right time.
14. Maintain and improve pastures.
15. Proper rotation of pastures in sequence.
16. Keep cost of power under control. (This will be discussed by itself at a later meeting.)
17. Repair your machinery at home in slack periods.

Increase The Income
After thoroughly discussing the reduction of cost of production the subject of increased income was studied. The points brought out were:

1. Market crops through livestock.
2. Produce for special markets if possible.
3. Good crop rotation.
4. Grow legumes largely.
5. Test seeds for germination and freedom of disease.
6. Apply lime stone and fertilizers, especially those that are inexpensive.
7. Keep farm account book.
8. Store crops and seeds carefully.
9. Control weeds.
10. Feed balanced rations.

There were nearly thirty farmers from the surrounding territory present at this first meeting, and fine interest was shown. This is the third year that Professor Weiss has conducted these schools and a great deal of good has come from them. The discussion of Making-a-Profit Farming will be continued at 7:30 o'clock next Wednesday evening, to which all interested are invited.

The climb of an airplane is approximately from 400 to 1200 feet a minute.

PUBLIC DEBT OF GOVERNMENT HAS GROWN STEADILY

Deficit Also Mounts: Figures For Seven Months Are Released

Washington, Feb. 2.—(AP)—The government ended the first seven months of its 1933 fiscal year with a deficit of $1,271,721,031 having collected from all sources $1,138,505,910 and having spent $2,410,226,941.

The public debt on January 31, amounted to $20,801,707,134, an increase of almost $3,000,000,000 in the 12 months. On January 31, 1932, it was $17,815,861,117. The government's income continued to fade away despite an increase in miscellaneous internal revenue coming from new taxes.

Income tax in the seven months amounted to $338,956,709 as compared with $635,817,908 in the same period of the previous year. Miscellaneous internal revenue, however, increased $147,000,000, it amounting to $457,039,677.

Customs Drop Off
Customs duties dropped to $153,003,025 from $224,569,945 in the seven months of 1932.

General expenditures were lower by $209,000,000 than for the same period of a year ago and amounted to $1,358,128,142.

Total ordinary expenditures of the government also were lower than a year ago. They were $2,361,911,226 compared with $2,716,119,849.

The sinking fund this year has required to date $419,764,000 as compared with $355,299,000 a year ago. The postal deficiency has amounted to $55,078,597 as compared with $105,000,000 last year.

The receipts for the present year fell $150,000,000 below those of a year ago, but the deficit on January 31 was $241,000,000 less than on January 31, 1932.

As yet the government collections have not reflected the increased income tax levied on 1932 incomes and officials look to this payment on March 15 to reduce the deficit some.

BIG EXPERIMENT BEING PLANNED BY ROOSEVELT

President-Elect Thinks
Scheme Will 'Balance Population

Warm Springs, Ga., Feb. 2.—(AP)—A gigantic experiment designed to provide 200,000 jobs and herald the birth of a new America from which the curse of unemployment would be lifted was proposed today by President-elect Roosevelt.

The rugged highlands and fertile industrial valley of the Tennessee watershed were chosen by the next President for this "most interesting experiment a government has ever undertaken."

Seated before the blazing fireplace of the "little white house", he told newspapermen of his dream for a vast internal development encompassing reforestation, reclamation, water power and agricultural rehabilitation. The aim is to balance the national population away from cities and the country.

May Employ 200,000
Roosevelt expects this huge laboratory experiment to provide employment for 200,000 men in the Tennessee valley alone.

But more than this, he hopes to carry the scheme into other sections of the nation from the Alleghenies to the Pacific coast and through it to re-establish American life on a basis that will mean the end of unemployment; the decentralization of industry; and a people protected by the watchful eye of a government.

The great Tennessee valley project involving half a dozen states is to include:

- 1.—Reforestation.
- 2.—Creation of flood control basins in the upper valleys, first at Cove creek and the Clinch river.
- 3.—Water power development to

To Ask Surveys
Roosevelt announced that as soon as he takes office, next March 4, he will ask the various government departments involved to make surveys with a view to putting the proposition up to Congress at an early date.

Confident that the whole project will be self sustaining, he has no doubt of the "bankability" of it and the availability of bonds for the undertaking.

"It is successful, and I am confident it will be," he said. "I think this development will be the forerunner of similar projects in other sections, particularly in the Ohio and Arkansas valleys and in the Columbia river basin of the northwest."

"We have about 12,000,000 wage earners unemployed. If we return immediately to the high level of 1929 I think we would still have 5,000,000 men out of work and on a dole. Our population is out of balance. If by government activity we can restore the balance we will have taken a great step forward."

"The normal trend now is a back-to-the-farm movement. For those who have had experience in agricultural work I think we will do well to provide a living."

Without references to notes or books but with an occasional glance at a huge map, Roosevelt unfolded his idea for a great Tennessee valley experiment. There is no doubt he has been studying the proposition for days.

He said he selected the Tennessee watershed running over the states of Virginia, West Virginia, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina and parts of Kentucky, Alabama, and Mississippi for many reasons, principally because of its wide range of physical conditions, life and climate. The area involves 640,000 square miles.

While there will be some differences of opinion over what plan should be adopted, Rainey predicted that "they will get together on some kind of inflation measure."

He said that if the silver proposals were rejected, the next "least harmful" plan would be that "advanced by Representative Busby (D. Mo.). Under his bill, now pending before the House Ways and Means committee, $3,000,000,000 in low interest, long term bonds would be sold with currency issued against them.

"The currency under the Busby bill could be expanded $3,000,000,000 in 150 days," Rainey said. "There is some question as to whether that is too fast, and there

Washington, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Silver inflationists today added to their ranks a new ally, one who may be Speaker of the next House. As the House Commerce committee resumed its hearings on various bills to re-monetize silver, Rainey of Illinois, now the Democratic leader and a candidate for the Speakership, said to newspapermen:

"If we've got to have some kind of inflation—and it seems inevitable that we will have in the new Congress—silver will be the best way to do it. If you start the usual paper inflation, you can't stop it. Expansion through the purchase of silver and the issuance of silver certificates can be controlled."

Rainey said that if he were elected Speaker he would not only be "delighted" to help silver inflationists get a vote on their plan but would "vote with them."

His position differs considerably from that of some other party leaders in Congress who fear any inflation might be disastrous. But all agree that sentiment for currency expansion is increasing and will be even stronger in the new Congress.

They cite, for example, the four new Farmer-Labor members from Minnesota whose platforms pledged them to expansion. They say that numerous others of the newcomers have promised to vote for more currency either through the bonus or some other means. Such a member, Joe H. ## DOMESTIC HOST'S BUILDING TO BE UNUSUAL AFFAIR

Changing Lights Will Make It Spectacle Of Much Beauty

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 2.—(AP)—By a clever arrangement of changing lights and special designing of the dome the Illinois Host Building at the Chicago Century of Progress will be a spectacle of unusual beauty, the State Architect's office announced today.

At the base of the tower there will be sculptured figures representing agriculture, mining, transportation, construction, fine arts and industry. In the bronze grills covering the windows in the central portion of the building, will be inscribed the names of the outstanding governors of the state.

Unusual and decorative schemes have also been evolved for the interior of the building, according to C. Herrick Hammond, state architect. For the first time, linoleum will be extensively used in a mosaic design for the floor of the memorial hall. The center motif of the mosaic floor will be the state's seal. Around it will be designs symbolizing the activities of the eleven code departments of the state.

The dies for these motifs were cast from sketches prepared in the state architect's office. On the wall of the Lincoln Memorial Hall will be large photomurals made possible by a recently developed process. Each of the murals will be ten feet, ten inches high and three feet seven inches wide. One of them will represent industrial Illinois. This photo mural will show a busy scene along the river front of Chicago with a locomotive in the foreground.

Another photo mural will show the skyline of Chicago's loop, the Northwestern railroad yards in the foreground. The third photo mural is an agricultural scene.

In the grand entrance hall there will be a painted mural twenty-three and a half feet high by seven feet four inches wide, painted by Charles Hallaway. This painting will stress some of the historic highlights of Illinois. Around the figure of Illinois will be grouped figures of Lincoln, Marquette and Grant, and in the background will be historical scenes.

In the lounge there will be a large photo mural of a pastoral scene along a stream in the vicinity of the Kankakee river.

The linoleum floor, the large photo murals, and the large paintings by Hallaway will be salvaged when the Illinois Host Building is torn down and will be used to decorate various state offices and state buildings.

There are several methods of "going out after it." You can stand on the street corner like any hawker and cry your wares. If 500 people pass by your store every day, perhaps one-tenth of them may enter at your request. But what about the hundreds and thousands of others who do not pass by on that particular day? They, too, are prospective buyers of your commodities. But you will wear out your lungs shouting from day to day. And imagine the uproar if every merchant started the same hullabaloo every morning!

The only adequate, inexpensive and effective substitute for your voice is newspaper advertising. Instead of attracting only the attention of a minority, it will be read by the vast majority of your customers. It will sell them your product in their own homes where the decision to buy or not to buy is really made.

Follow the lead of those who have tried it. Consistent advertising in your home town newspaper will bring you returns far larger than those obtained by any other medium.

The Funniest Sayings of ABE MARTIN As Selected By George Ade

"Makin' both ends meet is gittin' to be such a problem that I hain't bought a thing for th' house 'cept some seat covers for th' car," says Mrs. Pogue Swallow. Some folks hain't worryin' so th' theatres have got in their coal supply.

before she gets through Mrs. Van Kleek finds that life isn't so easily managed, after all.

The missionary comes after his wife. Mrs. Van Kleek discovers that he is her own son, whom she abandoned some 40 years ago. The plague hits the seaport, the missionary performs prodigies of bravery fighting it and at last dies of it, his wandering wife prepares to marry a young British subaltern—and Mrs. Van Kleek, who hasn't managed any of this as she planned to, realizes that she is old, lonely, and less wise than she had supposed.

Ernest L. Peterson, publisher of the Santa Maria (California) Daily Times, says:

That competition is keener than ever before due to present economic conditions and for that reason alone, if for no other, the man who goes out after business is the one who gets it.

Says Buses, Trucks Keep Up Highways

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Combating the demand for more rigorous regulation of trucks and buses, the Agricultural Transportation Association, by Charles F. Mansfield, General Manager, today announced figures showing that trucks and buses pay all the cost of maintenance of the state's hard road system.

"Records of the Secretary of State's office," Mansfield said, "show that trucks and buses in the year 1932 paid in $4,025,676.38 in license fees, not including gasoline tax. In the same year the Highway Department expended for maintenance of all hard roads in the state, including engineering and administrative overhead $3,757,220.74."

"It is high time the automobile owners realize that if it were not for the trucks and buses paying this four million dollars annually the individual owner of the motor car would have to pay from $3 to $4 more a year for his license fee."

LaFollette Wants Some Senate Action

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Asserting that "never in recent history" has legislative procedure been "in such a hopeless tangle," Senator LaFollette called upon the Senate today to work night and day beginning next Tuesday with a program of unemployment relief legislation, prohibition repeal, and beer in addition to the appropriation bills.

LaFollette said he would propose a unanimous consent agreement that the Senate beginning Tuesday work from 11 A. M. until 1 P. M. on appropriation bills and from 5 P. M. to 10 P. M. on the other measures he named.

His proposal also provided that after an appropriation bill had been under consideration for one day, a 20 minute debate limitation should go into effect.

"Some effort should be made for orderly legislative procedure to transact the pressing business before this Congress," LaFollette declared. "This country faces the gravest crisis in all its history."

PLANES CARRY BULLION

Mexico City.—A Mexican mining company regularly ships gold and silver bullion by plane from its mine in the interior to Mazatlan, the west coast port. From Mazatlan steamers carry the bullion to California. This aviation service is reported to save the company time and money in getting its mineral products to market promptly, and is said to be highly efficient.

PAIN DEADENED CHEST COLDS LOOSENED WITHOUT DRUGS

Get quick relief from neuralgia, pain, sciatica pain, neuritis pain, rheumatic pain, lame back, stiff neck, headache, strains and chest colds by rubbing plenty of Baume Bengue (pronounced Ben-Gay) on the spot. It doesn't blister or stain. Rub it in till it sinks down and soothes the pain or breaks up the chest cold. Take no drugs, for any drug that is powerful enough to "deaden" pain or loosen a chest cold may not be good for you.

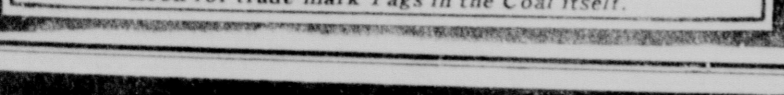

But beware of imitations. Ask your druggist for Baume Bengue by name (called "Ben-Gay" in English). There are many analgesic balms, mostly cheap imitations of Ben-Gay made out of synthetic drugs. That is why they are cheap. That is also why they are ineffective. Insist on Ben-Gay and you will get real results.
